

Maryland Negro Will Walk Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Maryland Negro delegate to the Republican National Convention said Wednesday that he and several others will walk out of the convention if, as expected, Sen. Barry Goldwater is nominated for president.

Marshall Jones of Baltimore said he and another delegate from his state, Augustus D. Knox, would leave the hall. He said they expect to be accompanied by others from their state, as well as from Delaware and Michigan.

Jones spoke of his plan in an interview just after one group of Negro delegates had announced plans for a "walk around" demonstration in the convention hall short of a walk-out.

The 41 Negro delegates and alternates are reported unhappy with Goldwater's civil rights views, including his stand that two key sections of the new civil rights law are unconstitutional.

Negro Hiring By Firms Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential committee plans to bring together for the first time representatives of major corporations and Negro colleges in an effort to open wider employment horizons for Negro college graduates.

"Some Negro colleges have never been in contact with business and industry," said a spokesman for the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

The committee is sponsoring a two-day conference next week to which Negro college officials have been invited to talk over the problem with representatives of such firms as General Motors Corp., American Telephone & Telegraph Co., J. C. Penney Co., American Airlines, Radio Corp. of America and others.

Man Accused Of Killing Wife

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 27-year-old cafe owner was charged with homicide Wednesday in the killing of his pretty wife and his business partner nearly a month ago.

The arrest of Jack Lopinson came at the end of a two and a half day inquest.

The Philadelphia County grand jury indicted Lopinson on two charges of homicide. The July grand jury returned the indictment after an hour of listening to witnesses.

Lopinson gave way emotionally when the charge was announced, and for a full five minutes sat sobbing, his head buried in his hands.

British Papers Attack Barry

LONDON (AP)—The Republican convention has received unprecedented news coverage in Britain.

Sen. Barry Goldwater has been a controversial figure for Europeans from the moment he emerged as a serious candidate for the nomination. Much of the European press has been critical of him.

This criticism grew severe in some newspapers as editors envisioned prospects of a sharpening of United States foreign policy.

Mexico Opposes Cuba Penalties

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico will oppose all proposed penalties against Fidel Castro's Cuban Communist regime at next week's meeting of the Organization of American States, Foreign Minister Jose Gorostiza said Wednesday.

Gorostiza left unanswered the question of whether Mexico will abide by any OAS decision in favor of such sanctions.

"We can't cross that bridge until we come to it, and it is hoped that we won't come to it," Gorostiza told a news conference.

Market Up To 844 After Two Losses

New York (18)—The stock market posted its first gain of the week Wednesday in a seesaw session.

Volume fell to 4.61 million shares, making the day the slowest of the month.

The Dow Jones industrial average was higher by 1.17 at 844.80, less than 3 points below Friday's high.

Goldwater Captures GOP Nomination

Dirksen Praises Barry, Says He Can Beat LBJ

COW PALACE, San Francisco (AP)—Everett M. Dirksen placed the name of Arizona Sen. Barry M. Goldwater before the Republican National Convention Wednesday and declared that his nomination for the presidency will give the American people the choice they have been waiting for.

And the Illinois senator said the Arizona conservative can defeat President Johnson.

Man of Courage
Dirksen stressed the humble origin of Goldwater as the grandson of a peddler and described him as a man of courage who can be counted upon to uphold the law and carry out the duties of President with honor.

"Let neither doubt nor defeatism impair our forces and our strength," the senator said.

"Beyond the rough terrain of the intervening months lies the sweet, green valley of victory and that valley can be ours."

The Senate minority leader referred to the discussion about American prestige during the 1960 campaign and declared it was "a phoney issue then." But, he added, it has become a real issue now.

American Respect

"The time is here for America to retrieve its self-respect," he said. "I believe that through firmness, through the sure hand, Barry Goldwater, the grandson of that immigrant peddler, could retrieve it."

Without mentioning the civil rights question specifically and Goldwater's stated doubts as to the constitutionality of the recently passed civil rights bill, Dirksen assured the convention that no man could be more devoted to the Constitution of the United States than the Arizona senator.

Then he asked:

"Is it not proper that a legislator who has sworn to uphold and defend it and bear true faith to it is entitled to his own view whether any measure before Congress squares with his estimate of the Constitution?"

He said that throughout his lifetime Goldwater has carried out his duties as a soldier and a senator and "with equal fidelity Barry Goldwater would discharge his presidential oath to enforce and execute all the laws of the land."

Conservative Choice

Turning to the conservative policies of Goldwater, Dirksen stated that "for 20 years the controversy on the conservative position has hovered over our party like a menacing spectre."

"In this convention today," he said, "there is a chance to make a choice."

Dirksen devoted almost his entire speech to extolling the personal qualities of Goldwater. There were only one or two passing references to the Democrats.

Ike Deplores Amendment Steamroller

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower deplored Wednesday the way the Republican convention mowed down all amendments to the party platform, saying "that is really not the democratic method, as I see it."

"This is like you have got to vote yes or no, and that is very bad," he declared.

Eisenhower, interviewed on an ABC television program on which he is a political consultant, described platform amendments offered by Gov. George Romney of Michigan as "quite good" and said he thinks they "could have been accepted without any difficulty."

He said Romney's amendment to condemn radicalism without naming any groups was exactly what he himself had done in addressing the convention Wednesday night before the floor fight over the platform.

"I thought that a really self-respecting party ought to disassociate itself from people that are known radicals," he said.

Eisenhower said he thinks the second amendment, dealing with the party's stand on civil rights, might really have added something to the platform, which was framed by a Goldwater-controlled committee.

Dr. Sheppard Freed After 8 Jail Years

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Sam Sheppard, convicted wife slayer, was ordered released Wednesday from Ohio Penitentiary by a federal judge who held he had been denied his constitutional rights for a fair trial.

U.S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Weinman ordered the release under $10,000 bond. He said Sheppard's custody is "void," and if Cuyahoga County or the state takes no action within 60 days the release becomes final.

Later, state officials said this would mean that Sheppard could be released Thursday, then go to Cleveland to appear in Common Pleas Court there preparatory to setting a date for a new trial.

F. Lee Bailey of Boston, Sheppard's attorney, said in Boston after hearing of the decision, that he would come to Columbus

Mrs. Chase Bolts To Barry; Parsons Defends Scranton

By Robert Van Fleet

Chief, Ottaway News Service
SAN FRANCISCO — In the hours leading up to last night's nomination of Senator Barry Goldwater, the Pennsylvania delegation caucused and voted 61-3 to remain loyal to the presidential efforts of their governor, William W. Scranton.

As Pike County delegate Edward Parsons put it, "I am determined to stick with the governor and do his bidding until the end."

The only defectors to the Goldwater cause were two who were elected as Goldwater delegates and Mrs. Frances W. Chase of Easton.

At the Pennsylvania caucus just prior to the opening of the convention's decisive session, Mrs. Chase was granted three minutes to make her case. For the first time she delivered to the entire delegation her four-page denunciation of liberal policies and her previously-reported decision to cast her first ballot vote for "Goldwater, the constitution, and the two-party system."

Leaders Surprised

State party leaders were reluctant to comment on Mrs. Chase's statement, but evidently were taken by surprise.

State committee chairman Craig Traub said he had suspected the Eastern delegate's position. He had thought until the caucus that she would cast her vote with the governor.

Estimates of the Pennsylvania vote by Scranton headquarters had remained 62-2 until the last minute report from the Northampton Co. delegate.

'Symbolic Vote'

Theodore L. Humes, Bolivar, a Goldwater delegate, declared the caucus vote was merely "a symbolic vote for a fighting governor."

He predicted "there will be some dramatic things on the floor" during balloting for the nomination.

Humes said there was a large block of sentiment within the delegation for Goldwater, but that the delegates did not "want to kick a fighting warrior when he is down."

Mrs. Chase had hoped that the Pennsylvania delegation would decide at the caucus to join the majority of the convention and cast all 61 votes for Goldwater.

The Senator's only other Pennsylvania support, however, came from elected Goldwater delegates Theodore Humes of Ligonier and Edward Swartz of Hummelstown.

For Rights Change

Mrs. Chase's only concession to Scranton adherents came during the floor fight on the platform. At that time she voted in favor of the proposed civil rights amendment and for the resolution that would have denounced extremists, though not by name.

On the effort of some to specify extremist groups, and on the nuclear arms amendment, Mrs. Chase sided with the conservative majority.

Parsons took issue with his co-delegate's position in almost every case. "The Northampton County Committee voted to support the governor," he said, "and Mrs. Chase should have honored that vote."

Mrs. Chase insisted that she was sent to the convention uncommitted and free. She made known her views, and at an attempt to instruct her at the convention was defeated at the committee's annual reorganization meeting.

Resignations

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Nancy Treble, a kindergarten teacher, and James Anthony, a geography teacher.

In other business the board: —Set the daily schedule for the convention, 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades from 9:31 a.m. to 3:33 p.m.

—Awarded bids to Loren E. Fenner, a bus route at $24 a day; to Parker Oil Co. for 20,000 gallons of number two fuel oil at .0955 cents a gallon; to Hess Oil Co. for 153,000 gallons of number four fuel oil at .0885 per gallon.

Also to Edward Casler and Son, the district refuse contract for $180 per month and Giesley's Chevron Service Station for gasoline for school district vehicles, 28.3 cents a gallon.

Senator Wins On First Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater captured the Republican presidential nomination Wednesday night on the first ballot and achieved the goal he pursued long and hard—the chance to challenge President Johnson this fall.

Goldwater's final total was 883. Scranton trailed with 214. Rockefeller with 131.

Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton immediately strode to the podium and delivered a plea for Republican unity and victory in November.

Pennsylvania stayed loyal, casting 60 votes for Scranton, four for Goldwater.

New Jersey split down the middle, giving 20 votes to Goldwater and 20 to Scranton.

New York cast 87 votes for its favorite son, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and five for Goldwater.

California went all out for Goldwater, giving him all of its votes. Ohio gave 57 of its 58 votes to Goldwater.

South Carolina gave Goldwater the 16 votes he needed to go over the 655 vote margin needed to win.

The Arizona conservative's expertly engineered bandwagon simply rolled over Gov. William W. Scranton and the stop-Goldwater forces arrayed under liberal and moderate banners at the convention.

The victory had its cost in wounds and bitterness. Goldwater is expected to get swiftly, beginning in his acceptance speech Thursday night, to try to mend differences and whip the party into fighting trim for the rough ball ahead.

Gov. William W. Scranton stayed in the race for the Republican presidential nomination to the last gasp and remained firm in his position that he is not interested in the vice presidency.

Scranton said that he had received no overtures from Goldwater personally or from anyone in the senator's camp to take second place on the ticket.

"I have not changed one iota on that," he declared. "I am not interested in the vice presidency and I will not be."

It was Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, who offered Goldwater to the convention as the grandson of an immigrant peddler and man of blazing courage.

And it was Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who took an opposite approach and an obvious poke at Goldwater by proposing that the GOP select Scranton as a man who would not lead the party to defeat next November.

The second name offered to the convention was that of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who was jeered and booed loudly Tuesday night in a fight over the party platform — a fight in which Goldwater forces smashed Scranton forces and all but guaranteed the presidential nomination for the Arizona senator.

It was Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York who put up Rockefeller's name.

Hiram L. Fong, U.S. senator from Hawaii, was nominated by State Sen. Toshie Arai.

Mrs. Smith Named
Neighboring Sen. George D. Aiken from Vermont, did the honors in nominating Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine — the first woman ever so honored by a major party.

Romney In Battle
Gov. George W. Romney's name was put before the delegates by Michigan's Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., who called the governor "a tremendously successful person in every job that he has ever tackled... a fighter... this man is a winner... a man who has put Michigan on the road."

Another noisy demonstration followed.

Goldwater Asks Miller To Run

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Thurston B. Morton said Wednesday night he has been informed that Sen. Barry Goldwater had asked William E. Miller, GOP national chairman, to become his vice presidential running mate.

Morton, the permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention, told a reporter that "the Miller matter is all buttoned up."

"I am told that Goldwater called Miller and asked him to take second place and Miller agreed to do so," Morton said.

Morton added that Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton had asked to appear on the platform to speak to Wednesday night's session. The chairman said this may be arranged, but not until after the ballot on the presidential nomination is taken.

Wallace Defectors Turn To Barry

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, who said he "shook the eyeballs" of Northern liberals in presidential primaries, now has some of his Southern conservatives worrying about their eye-teeth in the presidential election.

Despite Republican warnings of a serious Southern vote split if he stays in the race, Wallace said Tuesday night in Little Rock, Ark., that he was staying.

Some of his supporters fear that Wallace will divide the conservative vote with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and deliver the South to President Johnson.

Defections from the Wallace camp, in light of the GOP platform and Goldwater's popularity, are beginning or threatening in some of the states where the governor plans to run. In other states, Wallace backers are sticking tightly to Wallace.

An indication of the feeling on Wallace-Goldwater came from James H. Gray of Albany, Ga., newspaper publisher and former state Democratic chairman.

"I think the Republican platform will be very appealing to dissident Democrats and they will go along with it," Gray said. "As far as Georgia is concerned, I think this knocks out a third party."

A Wallace backer, Fred Hand of Pelham, Ga., one of a group considering a Wallace slate in Georgia, said there was a possibility the dissidents would go for Goldwater — "The GOP platform weakens our position."

Some of the big fears were "One," he said, "is that Wallace will divide the vote and defeat Goldwater."

Another indication of the conservative thinking came Wednesday in South Carolina when Farley Smith of Lynchburg, head of an independent Democrats' group, threw his support to the Republicans and endorsed Goldwater.

In Wisconsin where Wallace polled a sizable primary vote, one of his supporters, Mrs. Lloyd Herbstreich of Milwaukee, said many of the Wallace followers would now be for Goldwater.

Old Safety Pin Faken From Lung

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An open safety pin has been removed from the lung of a 37-year-old mother of two after being lodged there 14 years without the woman knowing it.

Mrs. Virginia Leavy of Greensburg swallowed the gold-colored pin while preparing her infant son for a trip in 1949 or 1950. "I'm not sure which," she said.

"I held the open pin in my mouth for a minute while dressing him—you know, one of those small pins for ribbons and things," she said. Then she swallowed it.

Mrs. Leavy called a doctor who advised her not to worry as long as there was no pain. It will probably pass out of your system, he said.

Just last month, she felt a sudden pain in her chest. When she started coughing up blood she called her doctor. An X-ray located the pin in her lung, still open.

Vet Criticizes Split On War

PITTSBURGH (AP) — In decision over Viet Nam has created something akin to national schizophrenia, a senior officer of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said Wednesday.

John A. Jenkins of Birmingham, Ala., national senior vice commander in chief of the VFW, told the state VFW's 45th annual convention that "the American people must decide either to win in Viet Nam or get out."

"In Viet Nam we appear to be involved in a military expedition that does not have any military objective," Jenkins said. He added:

"Our indecision over whether to commit sufficient forces to win the campaign or to withdraw has created something akin to national schizophrenia."

Chester Rejects Integration Plan

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — The Chester school board has unanimously turned down a plan designed to integrate classes and eliminate overcrowding in the public schools. The board said the plan, which was submitted by Dr. Max Wolff, a consultant hired by the state Human Relations Commission, "is only a partial remedy and is economically wasteful." Wolff's plan was designed to do away with overcrowding and eliminate all segregation above the fourth grade, with no busing required.

28th Division Gets Top Ratings

CAMP A. P. HILL, Va. (AP) — Pennsylvania's 28th Infantry Division received 67 superior ratings from regular Army evaluators during its first full day of summer training here.

Figures released Tuesday showed 67 superiors and 463 excellent ratings from a total of 600 inspections. The Army evaluators will continue to give ratings daily on performance of the various units of the National Guard division throughout the remainder of the two week summer session.

This displaying outstanding performance the first day included the 1st Howitzer Battalion, 109th Artillery, Wilkes-Barre, commanded by Lt. Col. Fletcher J. Booker Jr., Dallas, and the 1st Battalion, 112th Infantry, Erie, commanded by Lt. Col. Spencer E. Wurst, Erie.

Rain Helps Dry State Cropland

HARRISBURG (AP) — Rainfall last week improved soil moisture conditions and benefited crops in most parts of the state, the State Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

The only part of the state not to profit was the northeast where rainfall was below normal and drought conditions persisted, the service said in its weekly report.

Farmers in seven northeastern counties applied last week for drought relief.

"Major farm activities included combining barley and wheat, haying straw, cultivation and spraying of row crops, making hay and harvesting of vegetables."

"Rains helped corn perk up in all areas. Considerable corn has been cultivated for the last time. Earliest corn was being planted in barley fields."

"Early potatoes were being harvested. Late varieties are growing well with good foliage. Snap beans and beets are of good size and quality. Sweet corn was growing rapidly. Some early corn was being picked. Cucumbers and tomatoes are developing rapidly."

Blatt Will Not Quit Race

HARRISBURG (AP) — Governor-elect Blatt, relaxed and confident of ultimate victory in her cliff-hanging battle for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, today scooped rumors Wednesday she might withdraw in favor of a neutral candidate.

"I've heard the rumors and I don't know whether they are true or not," said Miss Blatt, who is state secretary of internal affairs.

"If this is a war of nerves, it is a waste of time," she continued. "Because I am going to leave no stone unturned until my victory is certified."

"I would not withdraw because I feel I won a majority of the votes properly cast."

The political rumor mill has been rife with reports that Miss Blatt and her opponent Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno would step aside in the interest of party unity.

The outcome of their battle in the April 28 primary election is still undecided, because of disputed votes in Philadelphia.

The other 66 counties have certified their returns to the state elections bureau and Miss Blatt has an edge in those counties of 392,781 to 332,822.

Her margin, including Philadelphia's uncertified tally, is cut to 469 votes, but the state Supreme Court has under consideration a request from the Musmanno camp to count about 6,000 votes that were cast on the wrong lines on voting machines.

Musmanno's attorneys claim that, if counted, the total result will be a net margin of 1,260 votes for the jurist. The court heard oral arguments on the Musmanno motion July 1, and a decision is expected shortly.

Miss Blatt, the first woman elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania is remarkably calm about the whole thing.

"I think about it from time to time, but I wonder if it is because people constantly talk to me about it," she said in an interview in her colorfully decorated office.

She is no stranger to close battles. She defeated Mrs. Audrey Kelly, now the state insurance commissioner, in her bid for re-election as secretary of internal affairs in 1962 by only 1,330 votes out of 2.3 million cast.

"You get used to these things, but I'd certainly like to have it over with to begin organizing the fall campaign, which I can't do except on paper and in my head."

American Legion To 'Get Tough'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The American Legion, some of its spokesmen said Wednesday, will demand a "get tough" policy in Viet Nam and the immediate ouster of premier Fidel Castro and Communism from Cuba.

Legion leaders said the state organization, which opened its 46th annual convention Wednesday, will be asked to adopt a series of resolutions embodying the strongest public policy statements in its history.

Along with the resolutions on Viet Nam and Cuba others are in the making calling for:

An end to what the drafters call "government by executive order."

—Complete United States sovereignty in the Panama Canal Zone.

A strong civil rights program.

Decisive action to remove "Communist-tainted" teachers and speakers from the country's colleges and universities.

These resolutions will be brought to the floor of the convention for a vote on Friday.

Members of the resolutions committee and other legionnaires said they expect that the 6,000 or more delegates will vote overwhelmingly in favor of the resolutions.

Spokesmen were not specific about the proposed tougher attitudes in Viet Nam and toward Castro, saying that more detailed pronouncements probably will develop when the resolutions reach the convention floor.

Scouts Of 45 Nations At Valley Forge

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — The Boy Scouts are at George Washington's Valley Forge — and more are coming.

By Friday morning's 7 o'clock reveille on the grassy slopes and valleys of this historic plot there will be 32,000 bright-eyed, high-spirited scouts and their leaders living in more than 30,000 tents—and ready to start officially the sixth national scout jamboree.

Half of the encampment's 1,200 troops—each unit composed of at least four patrols of eight boys and two leaders—arrived Wednesday by bus, auto, train, plane and ship.

The rest trek in Thursday, their arrival staggered to provide a minimum of traffic congestion on the already crowded roads and paths of this normally quiet countryside, 20 miles from metropolitan Philadelphia.

An aerial bomb will be exploded over the 1,800-acre Valley Forge State Park Friday at 9 a.m. EST—a signal for scouts to hoist 1,500 flags on poles dotting the site where Washington's weary and bedraggled army spent the winter of 1777-78 before winning its fight for independence.

That bursting bomb officially launches the week-long gathering of the free world's youth, including 800 scouts from 44 other nations.

These kids have come to follow ground for a purpose: to put their scouting knowledge to practical use in daytime activities and around nighttime campfires.

Every day in the thrill-packed fun-filled week that ends July 23 there will be patrol competition in campercraft, physical fitness and pioneering.

In campercraft, the scouts (12 to 17 years old) will compete in bow saw relays, fire-building with string, tent peg relays and wood-chopping.

There is a 400-yard obstacle course to test physical fitness. Also planned are log-rolling contests, a tire-rolling relay and a two-man carry relay.

Pioneering features log-rising, flagpole-raising, a chariot race and monkey bridge-building.

Mr. Kern had been despondent and took his life by running a hose from the exhaust pipe of his car to the inside of the car.

John C. F. Foelker, Monroe County coroner, termed the death a suicide. There will be no autopsy, he said.

Mr. Kern was the son of the late Paul and Florence Kern. He was born in Nazareth Twp.

He was a member of the United Church of Christ; a veteran of the U.S. Navy and Air Force.

He is survived by two daughters and two sons, Trudy and Linda and Paul and Todd all of Stroudsburg; five sisters, Mrs.

Barrett Pool Committee To Meet

MOUNTAINHOME — The Charles Geisinger Memorial Pool Committee will hold its first meeting Monday in the Barrett Branch of the YMCA at 8 p.m.

According to Mrs. Richard Kice, acting chairman, two representatives from each civic or service organization in Barrett Township has been asked to attend.

In addition to the Barrett Junior Women's Club, of which Mrs. Kice is a member, organizations taking part are the Barrett Lions Club, Pocono Mountains Rotary Club, Barrett Community Club, Barrett Volunteer Fire Co., Evans - Blitz American Legion Post, 922 and its auxiliary.

Each of the organizations represented has during the past 10 years set money aside — earmarked for use in building a community swimming pool.

Prior to Geisinger's death, money was raised through his efforts within the community through the Community Chest. The net $10,000 collected has been put in trust to be used when the community decides to build a swimming pool.

Scranton's Letter

Governor William Scranton's letter to Senator Barry Goldwater Sunday will probably go down in political history as the last straw—the final blow to Scranton's hopes for the Republican Presidential nomination in 1964.

Although the governor later said he did not write the letter himself, he said he agreed with it and took full responsibility for its contents.

It was perhaps the most vigorous and direct attack on Goldwater. In fact, it was so vicious in language, that it immediately backfired and killed Scranton's last chance to win over uncommitted delegates.

In the heart of the letter, Scranton attacked Goldwater with these words: "Goldwaterism has come to stand for nuclear irresponsibility."

"Goldwaterism has come to stand for refusing to stand for law and order in maintaining racial peace.

"In short, Goldwaterism has come to stand for a whole crazy quilt collection of absurd and dangerous positions that would be soundly repudiated by the American people in November."

Goldwater was described as outraged by the letter.

"I don't think intemperate language ever helps. I think this is more damaging to the Republican party than it is to me, and that's what I regret."

Goldwater was right. The letter will be Exhibit A in Democratic anti-Goldwater campaign speeches from now until November 3. Scranton said more than the Democrats could have said to hurt Goldwater's campaign.

Goldwater The Man

The funny thing about Senator Barry Goldwater is that even his strongest critics like him.

Despite the opposition of this newspaper to many of his ideas, statements, policies, and votes, we find him a likeable man, with a sense of humor and awareness of his own fallibility.

His campaign managers are going to capitalize on his character. They will publicize him during the Presidential campaign as honest, forthright, blunt, plain, tough on Reds, 100 per cent American, and a good fighter pilot.

He is handsome, has a sharp chin, a firm jaw and looks well on television.

He sounds perfectly sensible when you hear him on television. It is only the clear printing of his words, read the next morning in the light of day, which sends shivers up the spines of his critics.

In many ways, he is more colorful, adventuresome, dynamic and youthful than President Johnson. His candor is a welcome characteristic, although it often gets him into trouble.

Goldwater's frank understatement of his own abilities is another winning characteristic. In the now celebrated interview with the German magazine, Der Spiegel (The Mirror), Goldwater was asked why he wanted to be President of the United States.

"I don't think that Johnson is any better equipped to be President than I would be or probably thousands of men in the country," Goldwater answered.

"Nor do I think that I am the best man in the Republican party or the best man in the United States.

"I just happened to be a politician who decided it was time to give the people of this country a chance to express themselves. If the expression is no, we've given them a chance. Nothing is changed. Nothing is hurt."

Goldwater the man has a more appealing character than Richard Nixon, the 1960 Republican candidate, presented to the public and the voters. It is one of his greatest assets.

Comment Of The Day

"Tragic is a tomb for an unknown soldier. Still more tragic is the fate of the 'unknown soldier' whose life may be lost in a battle whose purpose he has not been told and which he is allowed neither to win nor to conclude."

— Oregon Governor Mark Hatfield speaking in his keynote address to the Republican National Convention of Democratic administration foreign policy in South Viet Nam.

Walter Lippmann

Goldwater's Victory

By Walter Lippmann

Sen. Barry Goldwater is winning a total victory in the convention, and he is now demanding that the Republican surrender to him unconditionally. The terms of the dictated peace are set down in the Goldwater platform.

It makes no concessions to the moderate or Eisenhower wing and does not even offer them a few crumbs to comfort them and save their faces. Barry Goldwater is riding high, and he is doing nothing to make it any easier. He is making it harder. He is making it harder for the moderate Republicans to survive. He is making it harder for the moderate Republicans to survive. He is making it harder for the moderate Republicans to survive.

The basic assumption of the Goldwater majority is that they are the true Republican Party. What they are now doing is to capture the party name and machinery by ousting the alien who have dominated it in this century.

To anyone who grew up in the Republican tradition of Hamilton, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt, what is happening in San Francisco looks like the seizure of the old party by a faction which rejects all its basic historic principles. But to the majority of the delegates at the Cow Palace this is the restoration of the Republican Party, and they are saving it.

It is clear enough, I think, that they are picking up the struggle which "left lost" to Eisenhower in 1952, and are reversing the results. One of the reasons that they are able to do this is that in Eisenhower's two terms, and despite much talk about modern Republicanism, the general did not reorganize the party which was split and demoralized after the long years of the Roosevelt-Truman ascendancy.

As soon, then, as the Democrats pulled themselves together in the aftermath of World War II and the Korean War, the Democrats renewed their ascendancy. This was obscured in the close election of 1960, largely because of the religious issue. The Kennedy victory was artificially smaller than the real Democratic strength. Since 1960, the Democratic Party has been becoming more and more powerful.

The fierceness of the Republican moderates is due in a measure, I think, to the competitive drain upon their intellectual and moral capital, upon their energy and enthusiasm, by the Kennedy-Johnson Democrats. There is a half-truth in the Goldwater argument that his Republican opponents are merely neo-fascists. The full truth is that in this century the Democratic Party, first under Wilson and then under Franklin Roosevelt, has taken over the historic principles of the old Republican Party.

It is much more significant than is generally admitted that Franklin Delano Roosevelt was the kind of man of President Theodore Roosevelt. In fact, F.D.R., though he joined the Democrats, was a disciple of T.R. and readily acknowledged it.

It was during the era of the New Deal that the Democratic Party became federalist and progressive and, with the rise of Hitler, internationalist as well. The Republican Party machinery was left in the control of men who had lost the old party principles and were in the main isolationists, conservatives, reactionaries and provincial.

Senator Goldwater is the leader of the movement to build a new party, rejecting the principles of the old party and ousting off the Republicans in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York, California and elsewhere who, by adhering to their basic principles, have led the party to local victory. Senator Goldwater has renounced the old traditional principles and now regards them, which is in a measure true, as principles of the Democratic Party.

Goldwater To Make Cuba Key Campaign Issue

Paul Scott

SAN FRANCISCO — Senator Barry Goldwater intends to make Communist-ruled Cuba the principal foreign policy issue of his "no punches pulled" drive for the White House.

This major campaign strategy decision has already been made by the victorious Republican standard bearer and his inner advisers.

Still under consideration is a dramatic proposal for Goldwater to launch his all-out attack on the "failures" of the Kennedy-Johnson administration's Cuban policies with a nationwide televised address from Key West, Fla. — some 90 miles from Castro's Red bastion.

This spectacular plan is being urged on Goldwater on these grounds:

—It would be "characteris-tically dynamic" and is actually certain to make a powerful impression on U.S. voters.

—It would impart to his discussion of the tensely controversial problem special "immediacy and vividness."

—And his address would serve as the opening shot in his fight to sweep the South—a basic factor in his strategy to win the presidency.

While no date has been fixed for the formal launching of Goldwater's campaign, two tentative decisions have been reached:

Prescott, Ariz., where he made his first speech for a Senate seat and where an uncle built up a leading department store, for sentimental reasons is his choice for the "opening salvo;" the campaign should get aggressively underway by mid-August — several days before the Democrats hold their national convention at Atlantic City.

This early start is strongly favored by most of Goldwater's inner counselors, on the theory that the additional time is highly desirable to permit him to fully "spell out" in nationwide radio-TV addresses his underlying concepts and views.

Goldwater campaign strategy calls for "unprecedented" use of the airwaves, with several or more broadcast addresses a week throughout his two-and-a-half months of projected campaigning.

Both the candidate and his advisers feel he can best "communicate" in this way.

TWO HEART ISSUES — In singling out and concentrating on Cuba as the over-riding foreign policy issue it is Goldwater's belief that this is one of two powerful "emotional" factors that greatly favor him, and, as his lieutenants put it, "The utmost should be made of them."

The other deeply "emotional issue," as they see it, is the backlash on civil rights.

It can be stated positively that this will not be publicly exploited in any way. At the same time no secret is made of the belief that the "fallout" resulting from persistent demonstrations, violence and other disturbances will potentially rebound to Goldwater's benefit.

In castigating the Democratic record on Communist-dominated Cuba, the Republican presidential candidate will propound a concrete program of his own. He will propose both direct and indirect U.S. measures to "liberate the Cuban people" by intensifying pressure on Castro "both from within and from without." Toward that end Goldwater will advocate the following specific actions:

—Providing U.S. arms and financial aid to Cuban refugees, and permitting them to train and operate from bases in the U.S. as well as the Caribbean.

—Establishing and recognizing a Cuban government in exile.

—Waging vigorous propaganda against the Communist Castro regime, including extensive dropping of leaflets and other literature throughout Cuba by U.S. planes.

—Intensifying the economic blockade against the island.

Top assistants of Goldwater are firmly convinced his advocacy of such a militant program will evoke wide and enthusiastic response among Democrats as well as Republicans, both in the North and in the South.

LEAF FROM THE OTHER CAMP — To assist him in formulating and presenting his views and proposals on foreign and domestic issues, the Republican nominee will set up a number of "task forces" headed by leading authorities in their field.

In doing this, Goldwater is taking a leaf from campaign strategy employed in 1960 by the late President Kennedy.

Under consideration for director of the foreign policy task force is Robert Strauss-Hupe, 60, head of the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania. A vigorous advocate of the hard-line approach in relations with Communist regimes, Strauss-Hupe also favors stronger U.S. ties with western European nations, particularly France and West Germany.

Another likely member of this task force is Stefan T. Possony 59, of the Hoover Institute of Stanford University. Like Goldwater, Possony opposed the nuclear test ban treaty and is against selling grain to Communist countries unless they grant major concessions in the cold war.

What is meant by the body's electrolyte balance?

Electrolytes are certain minerals like sodium, potassium, magnesium, calcium and many, many others, which are contained in body fluids.

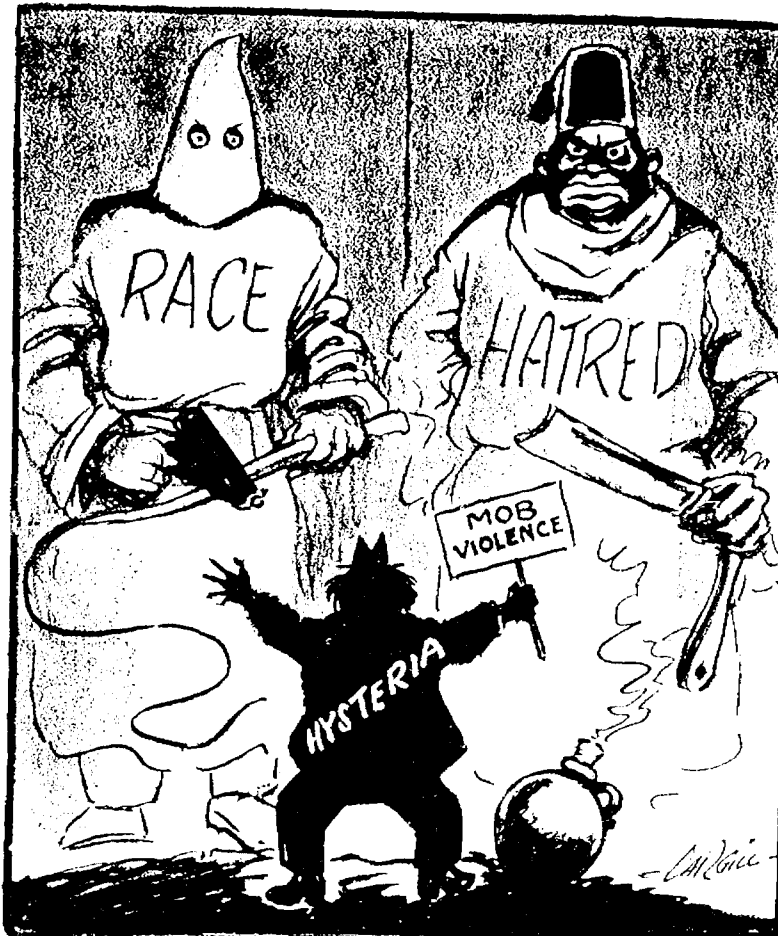

In health, these minerals are retained or eliminated according to the body's requirements. In certain diseases of the liver, the kidneys, during prolonged vomiting, or following severe burns, the "electrolyte balance" can be disturbed.

The electrolyte content of the body can be exactly measured by chemical analysis. If there is a deficiency of any one of the vital minerals, it can be replaced to restore the proper balance.

Divided We Fall

The Pennsylvania Story

By Mason Denison

HARRISBURG — Absurd and asinine reports invariably filter out of political conventions — and most certainly this week's GOP presidential showdown at San Francisco has proven to be no exception!

Unquestionably one of the prize such "nutty" reports — and amazingly, one that was published (albeit in one of the lesser public prints) — raised the possibility of "retaliation" on the part of local Goldwater supporters against those more than score of Pennsylvania lawmakers who went to bat as "ambassadors" — at — large — throughout the states in behalf of the Scranton candidacy.

The inference is that these members of the House of Representatives (up for re-election this fall) somehow are destined to be "cllobbered into defeat" by local Goldwaterites in a suit because these public office-seekers "opposed their wishes!"

In the first place, these "traitor" Goldwaterites, who might attempt to embark upon such a campaign of retaliation, are too minor in number to become anywhere near effective.

Secondly, the "key" to Republican support in any case rests not with the minority but with the majority or ruling "faction" within the party — which in this instance happens to be the Republican State Committee and the Governor — both of which elements of course were (and are) predominantly pro-Scranton.

Thirdly, it is inconceivable that even the staunchest of local Goldwaterites would attempt to "throw" the election of their local lawmaker in favor of the Democratic legislative candidate — to what avail?

Fourthly, by the time the November election rolls around, most factional differences will be forgotten — anyway, but lastly and perhaps most important of all — who really holds the whip of control but the Governor himself in the final analysis?

Of the more than score of state lawmakers who served in the "Scranton" ambassador corps" in last-minute massive effort to help gain Scranton support, virtually none have expressed regret over their volunteer venture.

To them it was simply another effort in the Republican cause, even though it did not turn out quite the way they preferred — and they are looking toward 1968 when another presidential election will be in the offing which could again ring Mr. Scranton into the picture!

To these lawmakers — and to many, another — perhaps the most nettling part of the campaign affair was the seemingly haphazard and disorganized manner in which the Scranton bid was handled.

On the other hand, it is next to impossible to throw together any sort of well-oiled fool-proof piece of machinery on such short notice as was necessitated in the Scranton case.

All in all, the Scranton people are amazed with the comparative smoothness and ease with which their effort was launched and so hastily turned into a working effort.

Good Hunk Of Dessert

Sometimes Kiwanians are a staid lot that carry their troubles to their weekly meetings at the Penn-Strand Hotel, Stroudsburg.

Often it takes a world-shattering effort to lift the spirits of the group. Yesterday that explosion took place in the form of a vivacious reddish-blond songstress.

Karen Ford, the three-part actress in Rowena Stevens' "Sound of Music" at the Pocomo Playhouse entertained the men who came from all sections of life.

Miss Ford, a pro with a capital "P," smoothed temporarily the daily chores as she waltzed through the group, singing melodies that would do justice to Mary Martin and Gertrude Lawrence.

The well-proportioned, woman who has not reached stardom yet was "the star" as far as the Kiwanians were concerned. Ask Charley Grace the oil executive. He has a hand that touched the hand of Karen.

Henry Weiss, a native Monroe Comedian who was a visiting fireman from Orlando, Fla., also felt the impact of Miss Ford's lullabies. And we could say this same thing about the go-men in attendance.

To say the least it was a different program that Harold Bates, the fellow who knows about Hollywood in the Twenties, brought to the meeting.

Karen promoted "Sound of Music" with the title song, gave a good performance in a tribute to Gertrude Lawrence's "Lady In The Dark" and presented the best dessert ever consumed at a luncheon session with "Wonder Bag."

The lady has class and attributes that pin-points a career that not always will be secondary. Her simple attire — a jet black dress and pearl necklace — improved on the environment, if that were possible.

And, like most theatrical folks will tell you, her accompanist didn't hurt her offerings either. At the piano was Joe Richter who does the same chore at Mrs. Stevens' site of first-class productions.

If Bill Walters, the Kiwanis' president, asked for a vote on what kind of programs the membership wants he wouldn't get the answer more entertainment. Instead in union verdict would be, "Bring back Karen Ford."

Speaking Of Your Health:

Some Questions Readers Are Asking

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Why does landing in an airplane sometimes cause a feeling of pain in the ears, even though planes are pressurized?

The pain occurs when the air pressure is not balanced on both sides of the eardrums.

Normally this balance is maintained by the tiny Eustachian tube which runs from the back of the nose to the middle ear.

Chewing gum, swallowing or yawning during descent helps to prevent this discomfort.

Try to avoid flying if you have a severe upper respiratory infection.

Can everyone get poison ivy or are some people immune? Can immediate care prevent a skin eruption?

About 70 per cent of people will develop poison ivy dermatitis after contact with the plant. Some people are resistant or even immune to it.

If the oily poison of the plant is immediately washed off the body with soap and water, the eruptions can frequently be avoided or diminished in severity.

Once the eruption has developed, washing, rubbing or scratching the surface can aggravate and spread the condition.

What is meant by the body's electrolyte balance?

Electrolytes are certain minerals like sodium, potassium, magnesium, calcium and many, many others, which are contained in body fluids.

In health, these minerals are retained or eliminated according to the body's requirements. In certain diseases of the liver, the kidneys, during prolonged vomiting, or following severe burns, the "electrolyte balance" can be disturbed.

Stories Behind Words

by William S. Fentield

Barmecide Feast A "Barmecide feast" means an illusion of plenty. The term is an allusion to a story in the "Arabian Nights."

A member of the wealthy Barmecide family invited a starving beggar to dinner. The beggar was seated at the table and empty dishes were set before him. The merchant prince, exercising his cruel sense of humor, started questioning the beggar.

"How is the soup?" he asked. "Excellent, sir," the beggar replied. Further questions about the imaginary meal brought nothing but praise from the beggar.

Finally, the beggar was offered some imaginary wine, but he politely declined it, explaining that he was already drunk. Then, in his pretended drunken state, he knocked the Barmecide down. The Barmecide, recognizing the humor of the situation, treated the beggar to a sumptuous meal.

Confidence Men Operating In Poconos, Chamber Warns

STROUDSBURG — Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce yesterday warned local residents and businessmen of two confidence games currently being worked in the area.

R. M. Hoot, executive director of the Chamber, said that some itinerant salesmen of lightning - protection devices peddle products which are not only worthless, but also hazardous.

Hoot said the other fast play now undergoing an upsurge in the area is a directory promotion using invoice - like solicitation forms to induce busy, unsuspecting business men to pay for listings they did not order and do not want.

The grifters hope a busy employee will mistake the solicitation for a renewal of the company's listing, Hoot continued. In some cases, he added, a small paper booklet may be issued as the directory, in others the promotion never appears.

Hoot hastened to add that the vast majority of area installers of lightning - protection devices are reputable, but said there is a small group of hit-and-run promoters who exist.

The National Better Business Bureau, with whom the Chamber is affiliated, said the homeowner should insist on checking a salesman's reliability and secure estimates from several firms before authorizing installation.

Hoot added that lightning-protection authorities recommend a written contract, including specifications for Underwriter's Laboratories sanctioned materials and practices.

The bureau also said that many thousands of reputable directory publishers exist. The Federal Trade Commission and the Post Office have curbed many illicit promotions, the bureau continued, but some still exist.

The bureau recommended reading each invoice carefully, determining if a listing was authorized or ordered, and securing information on the reliability of any company publishing a new directory.

Hoot said that reputable companies welcome investigation of their reliability.

Portland Area GOP Names Officers Slate

PORTLAND—The nominating committee of the Portland-Mount Bethel Twp. Republican Club this week nominated a slate of officers. The meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Buck of Echo Lake, Johnsonville.

The following candidates will be presented at the monthly meeting at Buck's home Friday night:

Paul Hay, president; Loring Nicholas, 1st vice president; Katherine Ackerman, 2nd vice president; Miss Lillian MacNamee, secretary and Mrs. Betty Kessler, treasurer.

Clair Peiffly is the candidate for a one-year director to replace Loring Nicholas, 1st vice president elect.

Franklin Smith, Otto Hochrein and Andrew Biller are candidates for three-year directors.

Refreshments were served to the following committee members:

Otto Hochrein, Gwladys Carpenter, Joyce Buck, Marian Smith, Clair Peiffly and George Tumbler.

Sunday School Picnic Friday

South Sterling — The South Sterling Sunday school annual picnic will be held at Tobyhanna State Park Friday at 10:30 a. m.

Those attending are urged to bring box lunches. Rain date is Tuesday.

Coolbaugh Twp. was formed before 1830 while that section was part of Pike County. It included all of what is now Tobyhanna and Tunkhannock Twp. It was named in honor of Judge John Coolbaugh who was an associate Judge in Pike County. The population in 1900 was 1,912.

INJURED CAMPER—Mrs. Patricia Navin, of Stroudsburg, a nurse in the dispensary at the General Hospital of Monroe County, bandages the broken finger of one of the many Pocono Mountain campers, who require medical treatment during their Pocono stay. The lad with the broken finger is Randy Corwin of New York City, who is one of the more than 10,000 summer campers in the Poconos. He broke his finger playing basketball. (Photo by Arnold)

Fund Drive Totalled $5609.14

STROUDSBURG — The board of directors of the Monroe County Crippled Children and Adults Society heard results of its 1964 fund drive at a meeting recently. Dr. James A. Reed, East Stroudsburg State College professor, presided.

It was announced $5,609.14 was collected in the 1964 Easter Seal Campaign. The sum is about $900 less than the 1963 campaign garnered.

The directors especially acknowledged a donation of $102 from the Wyckoff-Sears Employees Fund, enough to send one handicapped child to Camp Daddy Allen for four weeks. The employees fund specified the use of the money.

Services to Monroe County handicapped children and adults cost the society $1,700 during the past three months, according to the treasurer's report. Cost of sending five children to Camp Daddy Allen for four weeks, one child for eight weeks, and one child to Camp Harmony Hall for eight weeks was $1,000. The remainder, $700, was spent on special shoes, braces, wheel chairs, crutches and transportation for orthopedic examination of six children and four adults.

The society will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on Sept. 15.

Rev. Angelini Investiture

ROSETO — A former Roseto resident, Rev. Angelo J. Angelini, who has been rector of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church in Nesquehoning for the past 33 years, will be invested as monsignor at ceremonies in the church Aug. 9 at 11 a. m.

Bishop Joseph McShea, head of the Allentown diocese, will preside at the investiture, which will be followed by a solemn mass. Bishop McShea announced Father Angelini's elevation to the rank of monsignor in May.

Parishioners will honor the new monsignor at a testimonial dinner after the mass. The dinner will be held in the National Guard Armory in Hometown at 1 p. m.

Summer Injury Invasion Overruns Monroe Hospital

By Gil Murray
Daily Record Reporter

EAST STROUDSBURG — Bermuda shorts, swimming trunks, sandals and just plain clothes seem to be the uniform of the day during summer months at the General Hospital of Monroe County in East Stroudsburg.

This is not unusual for the usually staid hospital, however. Why? Because during the months of June, July and August the hospital is literally overrun with an assortment of broken limbs, cut fingers and toes, and an melange of other injuries, most of which are supplied by over exuberant tourists and campers.

Recognizes Problem
Charles Swisher, assistant hospital superintendent, said the hospital and its staff are used to the added work and recognized it as "a problem we have recognized over the years, and have made provisions for by having extra help and assigning extra help to the dispensary."

A walk through the first floor dispensary and out-patient clinic, with dozens of people waiting for some kind of treatment, makes you aware of the tremendous work load the hospital and its overstrained staff is carrying.

"A big reason for the increase is the presence of the many summer camps in the Poconos. The campers hurt themselves and are brought in here and they are taken care of with dispatch," Swisher pointed out. He estimated more than 10,000 campers spend the summer in the Poconos.

Hard statistics back up Swisher's contention that the hospital is overworked during summer.

During the months of January, February and March in 1963, the hospital's staff saw 731 people. These patients received 5,653 hospital services, like x-rays, laboratory tests, dispensary treatment, etc.

7,996 Services Received

During July, August and September of the same year, 1,917 people were treated and received 7,996 services.

"This business of 2,000 extra services make a lot of extra work," the assistant superintendent exclaimed.

He said every month is setting some kind of a record at the hospital.

"During May of this year we treated 4,100 people," Swisher said, "and during June we handled 533. According to the trend July will be considerably heavier than July of 1963."

He said to handle the increased load the hospital beefs up its professional and clerical force during the summer.

The hospital's new five-story addition is scheduled to open Sept. 1 and will add needed room to the dispensary out-patient clinic area, according to Swisher.

Another Emergency Room
"One more emergency room will be located in the new wing. That will give us three altogether. The clinic will be enlarged by 100 per cent, and our waiting room facilities will be expanded.

"During the summer we have people standing, waiting to receive treatment," Swisher said.

Oxford Benefit For Blast Fund

OXFORD, N. J. — Oxford Volunteer Fire Co. members of Oxford, N. J. are planning to hold a benefit show for the benefit of the Marshall's Creek Volunteer Fire Co. on Aug. 22.

The show will be held in the East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School auditorium.

Three volunteer fire fighters from the Marshall's Creek and were killed in an explosion near Marshall's Creek June 24. Proceeds from the benefit will go to the Marshall's Creek fund drive.

Feature attractions will include Hatch and McCarthy, musical spoof act; the Skunk Hollow Boys and the Fire Sisters, singing groups.

The hospital's new five-story addition is scheduled to open Sept. 1 and will add needed room to the dispensary out-patient clinic area, according to Swisher.

UN Battalion

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden is setting up a special battalion for emergency use by the United Nations. A government announcement said the force would total 1,433 men, including three rifle companies and a military police troop.

Driver Escapes Injury As Tractor-Trailer Flips

STROUDSBURG — A 43-year-old New York truck driver escaped injury yesterday at 5 a. m. when his tractor - trailer overturned and went down an embankment at the ninth St. exit of Interstate Rt. 80 at Stroudsburg.

The unit and its cargo of 35,000 pounds of printing paper were demolished. Damage to the tractor was estimated at $3,000. The trailer was a $9,000 loss.

State Police from Stroudsburg said the vehicle went off the ramp on a curve, overturned on a guardrail, tearing up five posts, went down a 30-foot embankment and stopped about 75 feet from the highway.

Nelson E. Martin of Norwood, RD 1, N. Y., the driver, told police he was on his way to Philadelphia. He said he had missed an earlier connection with Rt. 115. As he swung onto the ramp, he said, he was looking around for directions and wondering if there was room for his trailer to pass beneath a nearby bridge when he missed the curve.

Martin pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $10 and costs at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Ruth E. Miller of Stroud Twp.

Martin owned the tractor. The trailer was owned by W. T. Byrons Motor Express Co., of Watertown, N. Y.

DV Scouts Reading For Campfire

VALLEY FORGE — About 32,000 scouts at the Sixth National Jamboree at Valley Forge will set the pattern for American Heritage campfires to be held across the nation Saturday.

Boy Scouts from Delaware Valley Area Council and Bucks County Council are making final plans for American Heritage Day activities.

Campfires will be held at Camp Weygadt, near Columbia, N. J., and at Camp Ockanickon, Point Pleasant, N. J. The American Heritage theme will be used at Camp Weygadt each week during the summer.

Cub packs will also follow the American Heritage theme, featuring historic or patriotic songs at pack meetings. Explorers will participate in such Heritage Day activities as providing ceremonies for community organizations, carrying out special programs, or visiting historic sites.

Hawaii's Mount Waialeale gets an annual average of 471 inches of rain. At Calama, Chile, no rainfall has ever been recorded.

Buzzards Return 'Oh, Kay' Not Okay In Spots

By Peggy Bancroft
Record Correspondent

NEWFOUNDLAND — Just as the swallows come back to Capistrano, and the lemmings jump into the sea, so the turkey buzzards (alias turkey buzzards, alias Carthartes Aura), return each year to Greentown in the Poconos.

Most of the residents of this little village along the banks of the Wallenpaupack and Pauca Creeks accept the circling visitors — and might even miss their company. But vacationers in the area, and those who use Route 507 to reach Lake Wallenpaupack, are interested — and curious — to know why the huge birds return to the identical spot each season.

According to Edward S. Parsons, Jr., about whose home and property the buzzards congregate, the reason was understandable. It seems that one Lewis Miller has a butcher shop and each day, he dragged the unusable portions of his product to the hillside. This attracted the big birds, whose services as scavengers are invaluable.

Pass Word Along

But that was more than 25 years ago — and buzzards do not live that long, say the authorities. So how does the word get around each season that "it's time to head back to Greentown?"

And once they've come back from their winter sojourn in Florida, why do they stay, circling and sailing in broad circles over the Parsons home, soaring in constant motion from sunrise until sunset, spiralling in ever-rising circles over what was a famous feeding ground? If they can pass the word each year that it's time to leave for the Poconos, why don't they discover the party's over?

The Parsons family has had some startling experiences with their constant summertime companions from the feathered world. On misty mornings, when the sun comes up later than usual, Mr. Parsons, who is a science teacher at the new Wallenpaupack Joint High School, has rushed out doors and awakened a sleepyhead vulture, who often has trouble starting his motor under the circumstances.

Trapped One

And once, several years ago, the Parsons boys inadvertently trapped a buzzard and attempting to release the bird, (which is protected by law), discovered a most unpleasant fact about an already unpleasant bird: when startled, the vulture regurgitates his food violently.

The birds, some 100 of which arrive in the night on a certain day in Spring, congregate each night at sunset on a huge hollow tree near the Parsons home. The trees' branches are many, and offer plenty of perching space for the creatures, which are two feet high and have a wing span of four feet. By mid-summer, only about 25 of the birds remain, but these are die-hards, and spend the whole Summer and Fall in the blue skies of the Poconos, leaving when the weather turns cold enough so that their dislike of frozen foods for dinner sends them winging Southward.

No one seems to know whether they fly in a flock, or whether they come as they are. No one has ever reported, like the first flock of wild geese or the first flock of robins, that the buzzards are taking to the flyways. One minute they are not there, and the next minute they are sitting, silent and repulsive on every branch in sight.

Vultures look much better from the air, it is generally agreed, although even as they sail soundlessly over Pennsylvania's vacationland, they have a ragged, unkempt look. A close-up (which is to be avoided if possible) shows them to have a featherless head and neck, giving them an unfinished look. The skin and base of the bill is bright red, while the feathers are glossyblack, edged in grayish-brown.

Most authorities claim that the big birds are voiceless except when alarmed, when they utter low, grunting sounds or hisses. It is a common sight to see them after a rainstorm, with their wings held in spread-eagle fashion while their water-soaked feathers dry. Stories say they also stand on top of chimneys to take advantage of the rising heat, but the Parsons family has not had this experience.

Hawks, Vultures

Buzzards or vultures are related to the condor and the carion crow in this country — and their Old World ancestors are hawks and vultures. But wherever in the world they live they constitute a feathered street cleaning department. When one circling bird spots a corpse, (they use their keen sense of sight, not smell), it immediately descends, and every buzzard within range quickly joins the party. Often, they are so gorged with food that they are unable to fly after the picnic is over.

There is much speculation in Greentown each Summer. Why do the huge birds come back? Why do they stay, now that the last vestige of the original feeding grounds is long-gone? It may be that they are heading the State signs, scattered along the highways: Keep the Poconos clean and green. They are ready to do their part!

Pleads Guilty Of Assault

MONTREAL (AP)—Mrs. Leo Masson pleaded guilty enthusiastically to assault by hamburger.

The 35-year-old mother of 11 testified she pitched the sandwich at a woman lunchstand keeper because she was refused a refund after claiming the bun was mouldy. Judge Claude Wagner turned the defendant over to a rehabilitation officer pending sentence July 24 for simple assault.

TANNERSVILLE — Work involved in putting on a different musical every week is tremendous. Each actor — singer must try to perfect a part in one show while simultaneously learning and rehearsing another.

The strain finally caught up with Cherry Lane Playhouse's resident company of 15 in this week's production of "Oh, Kay," a vintage musical by George Gershwin.

Scenes, even successive lines within a scene run from very good to very bad. The overall effect is a highly erratic show, which hopefully will whip into shape as the week progresses.

The book by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse is a thin plot about bootleggers in the basement of a rich playboy's house. "Oh, Kay," dating from the mid-twenties, came at a time when the pop musical was replacing the operetta. As a result, the book is an excuse to intersperse true burlesque slap stick with songs by George and Ira Gershwin.

Acting Uneven

Star Margo Marson, as Kay, the sister of the bootlegger, uses her singing experience with the Amato Opera Company of New York to good advantage, especially in "Someone to Watch Over Me." But her acting tends to be uneven. She should have had a great deal more rehearsal and intensive direction.

Ron Leath, as Jimmy Winter, the young playboy who seems determined to have more wives than King Solomon, can act when he remembers his lines, but has great difficulty with the singing role.

The only fairly consistent performances are the comedy parts by Dorothy Moore as Mrs. Appleton, and Joan Kenley as Constance Appleton, her domineering daughter and lucky bride number two for Jimmy.

Funniest scene in the whole play, a comedy classic, is the luncheon scene, a devastating bit of slapstick, with Miss Mason as the maid and Walter Miller as the butler.

Star Resists

Producer Rea Hooker wisely gave Barbara Cole, star of next week's "My Fair Lady," a rest. In addition, the dependable Sam Carter, who should do "Entry 'Igginis to perfection, if he can conquer his Tennessee accent, has been given bit roles for the past two weeks.

The entire company will get a rest of sorts, as "My Fair Lady" runs for two weeks. Directing will be Herb Surface, who will also play Pickering, according to Hooker.

Hooker said Surface understudied Pickering and did other roles in the original long-run Broadway production. This reviewer, for one, is looking forward to the production by the generally competent cast at Cherry Lane.

Pen Argyl Boy

Fined $128

PEN ARGYL — An 18-year-old Pen Argyl youth who cut a brake fluid line on a Bushkill Twp. police car July 8 was fined a total of $128.15 yesterday at a hearing before Justice of the Peace R. S. Daniels of Wind Gap.

Barry W. Keller of 308 Rabbitt Ave., Pen Argyl, was apprehended Tuesday afternoon and charged with malicious mischief. He pleaded guilty to the charge. He was first fined $119 and cost on the charge. He was also fined $9.15 for car repairs.

East Stroudsburg's Band Plays At N. Y. World's Fair

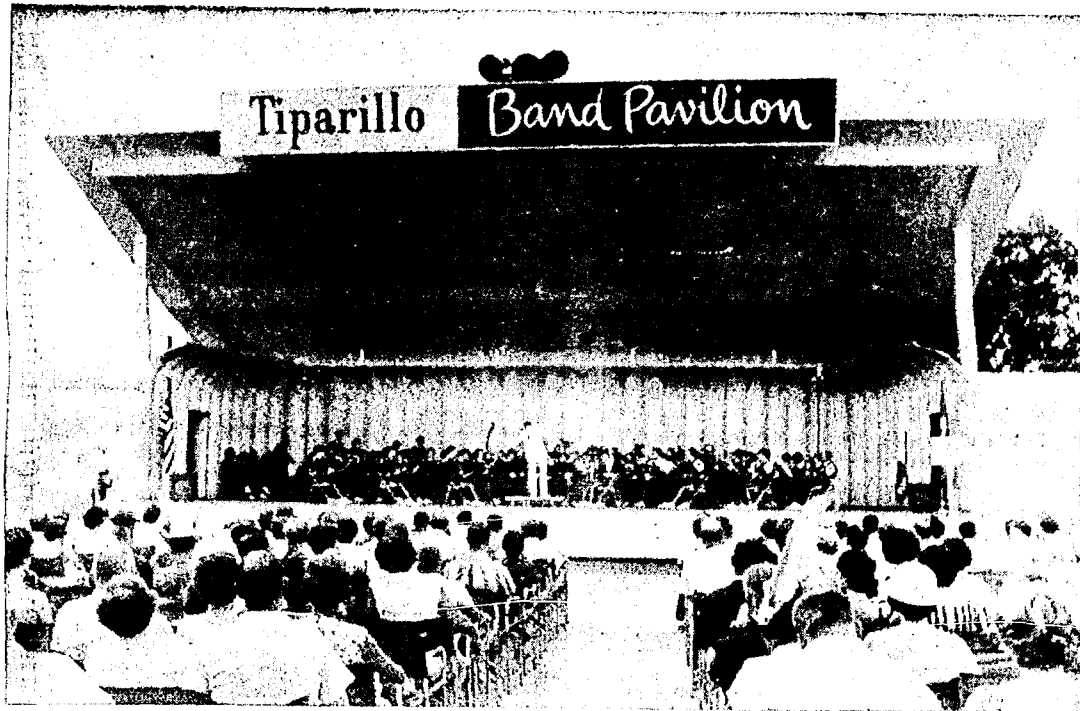

ALL ABOARD—Robert Zellner, East Stroudsburg High School band director, and Dr. Seymour Pollan, representative of the sponsoring Lions Club, check to make sure all 105 band members are aboard before pulling out last week. (Staff Photos by MacLeod)

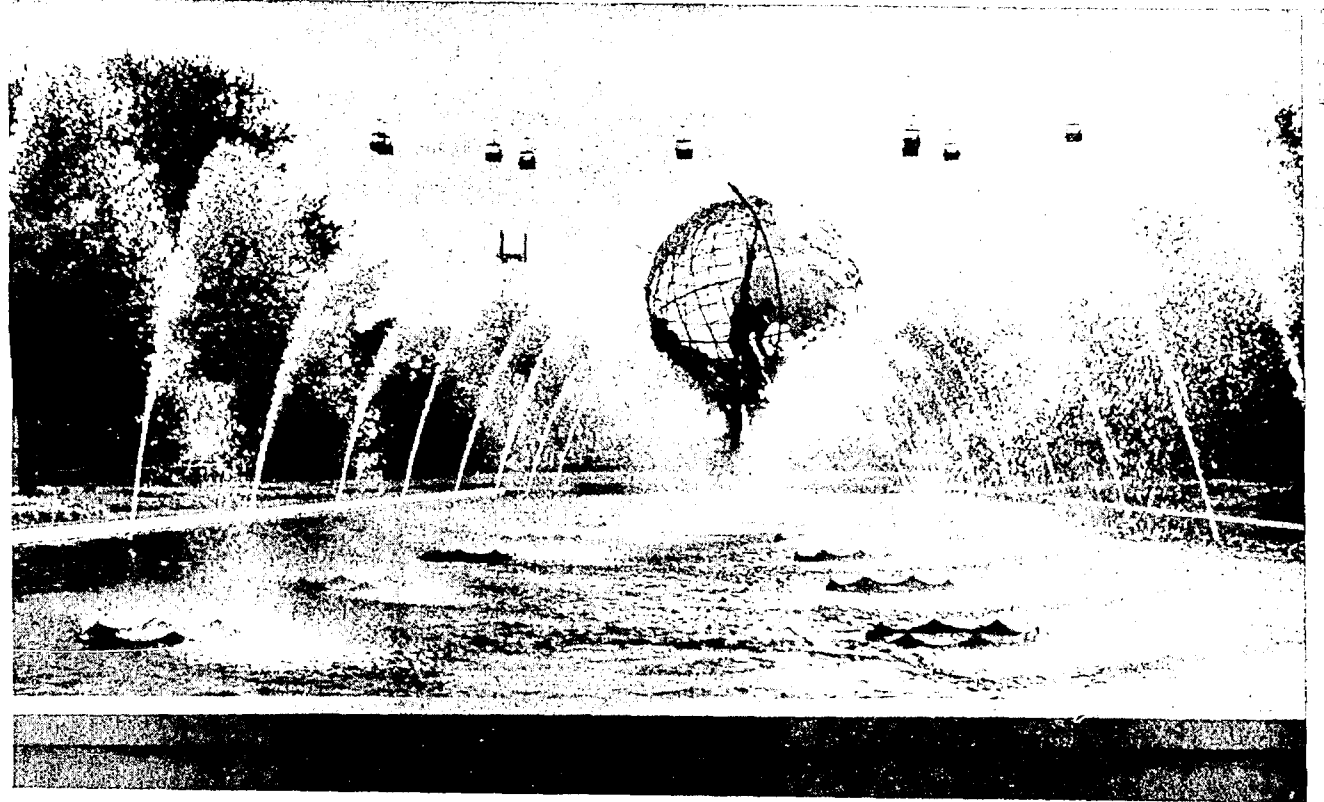

LONG WALK—Parking at the World's Fair was difficult because of the nearby All-Star baseball game. Band members had to walk to the General Cigar Tiparillo Bowl where they were to perform.

Some of the instruments were reported much heavier after the half-hour hike.

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON—Members of the pavilion staff said it was the best high school band to have played there. The band was selected on the basis of its past performances and samples submitted to the World's Fair.

FAIR OF FOUNTAINS—Symbol of the fair can be seen from all points at the fair grounds. The Swiss sky ride constantly shuttles back and forth overhead.

COMIC CONFUSION—Majorettes Joan Millard, Sue Morris and Diane Lotz show director Robert Zellner a sign announcing East Stroudsburg with an "H" high school band from Stroudsburg, Pa. At least the hour concert got started more or less on time at 2:15.

TWIRLING SKIRTS—Pretty girls and rich music, a combination to make resident and non-resident alike proud of the good-will ambassadors from the Poconos.

HOMEWARD BOUND—Yawning, Russell Bush, band member, was not any more "bushed" than the rest of the six-bus party. The long ride home that night was made more pleasant by memories of "The Fair."

Target '64 For Rt. 80 Jersey Link

WILLIAMSPORT — Construction of a new 23-mile section of Interstate Rt. 80 from Columbia, to Netcong, N.J., may get under way in 1964.

C. E. Noyes, executive director of the Keystone Shortway Assn. in Williamsport, Pa., said New Jersey has scheduled a $9 million program of engineering, right-of-way acquisition and partial construction of the new section.

It would run from the end of the four-lane Interstate Rt. 80 at Columbia, N.J., and tie in with the already complete six-lane blacktop Dover bypass.

When the new section is completed, it will cut at least eight miles from the present hazardous winding two-lane U.S. Rt. 46.

To Join 21 Mile Stretch

The new section will join the 21 miles of Interstate Rt. 80 (Keystone Shortway) already open to traffic in Monroe County and the five miles of similar four-lane highway from Delaware Water Gap bridge to Columbia.

Noyes said the 1964-65 program in New Jersey calls for

Driverless Bus Is Tested

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A full-sized model of a driverless transit expressway vehicle was unveiled Tuesday by Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The model is one of three such cars that will be tested at a two-mile strip in nearby South Park as part of a $5 million experiment to determine if transit expressway can meet commuter needs of medium-density areas throughout the United States.

The cars will be operated electrically from wayside stations along private lines. They will run on eight rubber tires but will be steered along an I-shaped center rail.

The cars on display are much shorter than the conventional subway car, have a seating capacity of 28 and standing room for 42 more. The new transit idea caters to passenger comfort and convenience, according to Westinghouse officials.

The Denver mint produces about 70 per cent of all U.S. coins.

a $12.6 million project on Interstate Rt. 80 between Rt. 53 and Paterson. Work is now in progress between Paterson and the George Washington Bridge. When completed, Interstate Rt. 80 will run from the George Washington Bridge in New York City to San Francisco, Calif.

Miss Marlene McLain Bride Of Pfc. Harold D. Lee Jr.

Greentown — The Madisonville Christian Church, Madisonville, was the setting for the late June wedding of Marlene Mildred McLain, daughter of Richard McLain, Greentown, and the late Mrs. Florence McLain, to Harold David Lee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Sr., of Moscow.

The Rev. Romayne Kipp officiated in the two o'clock ceremony. The church was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums.

Organist was Virginia Madden, and Ruth Schlitter was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown featuring a scalloped lace neckline, long sleeves, and a lace train. Her elbow-length veil fell gracefully from a white crown. She carried a bouquet arrangement of gardenias and baby orchids.

Mr. Janet McLain, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Joyce McLain, the bride's sister, Lynn O'Malley, cousin of the bride, and Beverly Seeley, were bridesmaids. All wore gowns of varied shades of pink and carried bouquets of pink carnations edged with white.

Robert Lee, of Moscow, served as best man. Ushers were Larry, Roy and Bruce McLain, Greentown, all brothers of the bride.

The Madisonville Fire House was the setting for the reception, which immediately followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Lee chose a green and white tuxedo suit for traveling to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Sandwiches, Salads, Skirts

Tannersville — Grilled cheese sandwiches, tossed salad, and milk composed the lunch at the weekly meeting of the Tannersville 4-H Cooking and Sewing Club. Turning to sewing, the young cooks worked on their skirts and learned how to thread and use the sewing machine. Four more girls joined the group.

This week's meeting will be held Thursday at the home of Barbara Janson from 9:30 a.m. until noon.

Noble Grands

Stroudsburg — Past Noble Grands of Rachel Brodhead Rebekah Lodge will meet Thursday night at 6 for a hot dog roast at the home of Bertha Smith, Swiftwater.

Gardeners' Rainy Outing Good For Gardens, Too

Lake Hopatcong, N.J.—Members of the Monroe County Garden Club were of two minds about the weather: their gardens needed the rain but not necessarily on the day when 37 of them took a bus for a meeting at the summer home of Mrs. Thomas H. Wiss of Lake Hopatcong. After lunch, Mrs. Wiss served dessert and coffee.

Mrs. Wiss outlined the history of Point Pleasant on the lake which her grandfather had discovered on a canoe trip in 1854 by a canal no longer in use. At the point, they found seven tents occupied by a group of Methodists. Later, cottages were built, one of which has been left in its original condition by her father and uncle who now own the point. Sailing races and cabin cruising are favorite family sports.

Mrs. Burton Robins of Fogelsville, an accredited flower show judge and a member of the Allentown Club demonstrated the things that judges consider in awarding points both in artistic design and horticulture specimens. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Owen Bastian, Jr.

Among her suggestions: Start with a good foundation, cutting plant material before the sun rises in the morning or after it sets at night and keep the material in good condition throughout the show.

Mrs. George Rung presided at the business meeting when the principal project was the coming Flower and Garden Mart.

Mrs. Charles A. Bell will be general chairman and Mrs. Leonard Hippler is chairman of ways and means. Members are planning things for the sale.

After the meeting, coffee was served in Mrs. Wiss' cottage by her daughter and a friend to end the rainy but pleasant session.

Society Of 28th At VFW Sunday

Stroudsburg — Plans for installation of officers and the annual banquet of the Auxiliary to Gateway Post 56, Society of the 28th Division will be made at the meeting on Sunday at 2:30 at the VFW Home. Reports of the recent convention in Wildwood, N.J., will be given by the delegates, Sarah Frantz and Emma Singer.

President Lillian Mosher has requested a large attendance. Ethel McCarrick is hostess chairman for the buffet supper to follow the meeting. Members are asked to bring table service.

80-Year-Old Reminisces On Birthday

Newfoundland—A man who has been active in church and community affairs for more than 60 years... and who still keeps busy with a home garden and with his church, will observe his 80th birthday anniversary on July 18.

He is William Heberling, of Greentown, son of the late Bertha Kramer Heberling, who came from Germany to this part of the country at the age of three, and the late Henry Heberling.

William Heberling was born in Panther, Pike County, and lived there until his marriage in 1908 to his wife, Hannah, who died on December 14, 1961.

Fate nearly took him to West Virginia to work, but instead, he stayed on in this area, working in the Gilpin Woodworking Factory. He stayed there until a disaster closed the mill, when a boiler exploded, killing four men. He then was placed in charge of a sawmill. He farmed the Gilpin homestead for 35 years (in Wayne County) and sold the farm just before the 1955 flood. Among other things, he worked at Buck Hill about 57 years ago, and at Lake Pausanoe for two years.

Both William Heberling and his father were members of the Oddfellows, and also of the P.O.S. of A. until the lodge was retired.

Born a Moravian, and married to a Methodist, he joined the Methodist Church and both he and Mrs. Heberling worked hard for nearly sixty years, she in the Woman's Society of Christian Service; he as teacher of a men's class for 22 years and of a young people's class for 14 years. The Heberlings had a proud record of never having missed a Sunday service unless they were ill.

Mr. Heberling well remembers his first automobile—a Ford purchased in 1921. The car's first trip was—naturally—to church!

Now that Summer's here, Mr. Heberling is busy with his garden. He raises vegetables and berries, and keeps his freezer "chuck full."

Miss Carolyn Majestic

Strausser-Majestic Engagement

Effort—Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Majestic, of Effort, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn, to Kenneth Strausser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Strausser, of Reeders.

Miss Majestic is a graduate of Pleasant Valley High School and is employed in the office at the General Hospital of Monroe County.

Her fiancé attended Pocono Mountain Joint High School and is employed at Madison Shoe Co., Stroudsburg.

A Fall wedding is planned.

Just Between Us —

And another reason I'm glad I'm home: invitations may not sound as glamorous as those in New York but they're definitely more original. Anybody with $25 to spend for dinner can go to The Four Seasons, but I had to come home to be invited to ride horseback to dinner, horse provided. In fact, in New York, the invitation to ride to the World's Fair in brand new Barracudas had to be rescinded because the cars got tied up in the Transport Workers Strike and couldn't even be unloaded.

However, with my record of contemps it is quite possible I could have drawn a horse with the same temperament as Jimmy Hoffa, so I declined the horse if not the Pocono Saddle Club dinner.

My golf is hardly more efficient than my horseback riding but the invitation to the Cliff Park Golf Club tournament was too entrancing to turn down, especially since it involved starting in the foggy, foggy dawn. Well, 7:30 is dawn to night-workers. Anyway we had a wonderful time and the Glen Brook women did pretty well in scoring with Emma McGar and Jean Kiefer winning prizes and Henri Baldwin and Shirley Christman tying for tops but losing the toss.

Maybe 7:30 wouldn't have seemed so early except for the Republican Convention. There are people who can go to bed at bedtime, no matter what fantastic things are happening. There are people who can refuse invitations no matter how enticing. They are the people who are healthy, wealthy and wise.

So the fact that I pity them almost as much as I admire them means I'll never be any of those things, but I'm building up a reservoir of memories that should never run dry.

However, I'll pass on a tip to both the Democrats and Republicans: They are alienating a large segment of future voters, namely those in the 6 to 16 age bracket who have only lost out on the television battle, and even have to muffle the high-fi and radio, but who also have to deal with mighty sleepy and cranky parents the next day. They'll all probably grow up to be Independents.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

There are approximately 6000 Wyckoffs in the United States. Some of them you know. They are the Wyckoffs in our Wyckoff store. One, you may have seen and applauded without actually meeting. This is too bad, for her name is Evelyn and she is absolutely charming.

At the moment, Evelyn is captivating audiences at Pocono Playhouse with her charming interpretation of the vivacious and warm hearted Maria in "The Sound of Music." With Frances Pole, the Playhouse's alert and capable public relations director, she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff at luncheon in our Tea Room this past Tuesday.

I was seated next to her at table, and about half way through her fruit salad and cinnamon toast, she turned to me and asked, "What is the name of this room?" When I told her we refer to it simply as the Tea Room, she expressed the opinion that this is too bad. "It is such an attractive room—it gives the impression of being so open and airy. I think it should either be called the Patio or the Terrace."

Her comment made me feel that this 5 ft. 2 inches of attractive blonde womanhood may have more talents than one at first realizes. Besides a beautiful voice that wings magically through a Rodgers and Hammerstein score, she probably has a gift for promotion. This she denies... but as Miss Pole points out, everyone is a merchant in one way or another. A store like Wyckoff's sells merchandise from all around the world; an actress sells herself. As a matter of fact, we all do... every moment of the day.

In private life, Evelyn Wyckoff is Mrs. Paul Hancock, whose husband is associated with the National Broadcasting Company of which Bob Kintner (our "local boy who made good") is President. They have one daughter, Barbara, 13, who hopes to become a professional dancer and is serving an apprenticeship in summer theatre this year, painting scenery, and doing the million and one little things that can be stepping stones to spectacular careers. Mr. Hancock, being a part of the world of entertainment without actually being an entertainer, is marvelously suited to his position as husband to a star and father of a prospective star. It takes understanding, such as he can offer, to maintain the even keel of happy family life through long periods of rehearsal, road trips, and other professional demands.

Blue-eyed Evelyn loves the theatre with all its rigors, and regards her tour with "The Sound of Music" as being something of "a vacation with pay." After all, there are no family chores to worry about for awhile... and the cast is completely congenial. The young actors and actresses who portray the von Trapp children are delightful, three being sisters who have progressed from one age to another in the show, actually "growing up" in the various roles. The role of Maria is strenuous, of course, but not forbiddingly so. As a matter of fact, it's just about right, Evelyn thinks. She need never diet, because the tension and energy expended each performance keeps her figure at just about the right weight. "What more," she demands, "could any actress ask?"

After lunch, Evelyn, Walter Wyckoff and President Holt Wyckoff posed for pictures, and Evelyn participated with "Papa" Wyckoff, Miss Pole and myself in a radio interview. Then back to the Playhouse she hurried for a brief rest before another performance. Her one regret, she announced, was not having time to look over all the smart new fashions for Fall she had glimpsed enroute to the Keystone Room through our dress and sportswear departments.

We wish too, she might have stayed. Evelyn Wyckoff was as delightful to know, even briefly, as "The Sound of Music" is to see and to hear time and again!

Monroe Being Reimbursed For Care Of One Retarded

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG — Monroe County is being reimbursed by the State for the care of one mentally retarded child now in a private state licensed facility, according to a Legislative Budget and Finance Committee study.

In actuality, the lone mentally retarded Monroe child is part of 912 such patients from throughout the State currently being cared for in some 60 private state licensed facilities and foster homes and is among 3265 applicants who have filed for and are awaiting admission to one of the nine state owned schools and hospitals.

Determined By Welfare
Under the "Reimbursement to Counties for Care of Mentally Retarded" program, the maximum reimbursement rate (per patient, per day) is determined by the State Department of Public Welfare, with any cost balance to be made up by county government or private sources.

The lone Monroe County mentally retarded patient being cared for under the program has been admitted to the Clifford Nursing Home near West Chester in Chester County, with type of care classified as "trainable of all ages and those nursing care over five years of age." Rate of maximum reimbursement to Monroe County: $8.33 per patient day.

Sayre Tops Monroe Stars As Babe Ruth Series Tied

SAYRE — Walking confident in the fourth inning, Sayre topped the Monroe stars in the best-of-three series for the opening round of the District 4 playoffs, the Monroe County Babe Ruth League All-Stars walked out with a 5-2 loss.

The confidence came from a smashing 14-2 shellacking the stars gave Sayre Tuesday. The 5-2 defeat yesterday came on the bases-loaded base hit of Sayre second-sacker Bruce Angelo.

The Monroe stars have a chance to even the three-game series Friday, when they travel to Sayre, again. Starting time for the rubber game will be 5:30 p.m.

Things looked good for Monroe: the stars led off the top of the first with two solid runs scored on a walk and base hits. The game remained 2-0 until the bottom of the third, when Sayre tied it up. The Monroe players failed to score in the top of the fourth, but Angelo bases — loaded single did three runs worth of damage in the bottom of that inning.

Things remained scoreless until the end of the game, Sayre was not required to bat in the bottom half of the last frame.

A bright spot for the Monroviens was John McConnell's batting performance. He went two for two and swatted two doubles.

On the mound — he took the loss — he gave up five hits and five runs, three of them earned, striking out five while walking three.

Tom Lambert came on in the fifth inning to finish out the game, allowing only one hit and walking one.

Maynard picked up the win for the Sayre Stars.

At 24, Nicklaus already has joined Gene Sarazen, Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan as the only players to win the three major American championships — the Masters, Open and PGA.

He is seeking to become the first since Denny Shute in 1936-37 to put PGA titles back to back.

Nicklaus, playing before a home town gallery, is the favorite at 4-1. Arnold Palmer, the Masters champion, and Lema, winner of the British Open last weekend at St. Andrews, are 6-1, with Venturi, the reigning Open king, listed at 8-1.

You can get anything from 10-1 to 200-1 on others in the crack international field of 163, which begins teeing off at 7 a.m. (EST) over the short and sporty Columbus Country Club, where par is 70.

Most of the players are convinced that par will take a murderous shellacking, with the winner likely shooting as low as 270 or 272.

Milwaukee To Fight For Braves
MILWAUKEE (AP) — After a two-hour conference with Milwaukee Braves Board Chairman William Bartholomay, Milwaukee County Executive John Doyle said Wednesday the community is "going to fight" to retain the baseball club.

Doyle said Bartholomay repeatedly assured me that the club has no commitment elsewhere.

"In that case and in the light of admitted offers, other cities after it, we are going to fight for it," Doyle declared.

Rumors that the Braves have been headed for Atlanta, Ga., have been widely circulated for a year.

3 Picked For Lema Foursome
STROUDSBURG — Three eastern Pennsylvania golf professionals have been picked to play a benefit round of golf with Champagne Tony Lema August 14.

The round proceeds will go to the Monroe County General Hospital Building Fund.

M. Stiles (Marty) Baldwin said the professionals who will fill Lema's foursome are Paul Patton, pro at Glen Brook Country Club where the round will be staged; Bill Boorman, pro at Shawnee Country Club; and Harold Dymond of Scranton Country Club.

The decision to seek acceptance of these professionals was made in Baldwin's office yesterday. Russell Imb, Sr., is chairman of the campaign.

Baldwin and William Nixon are co-chairmen.

Lema is being offered to participate in the tournament through the Ford Foundation.

Acceptances were taken from the three professionals yesterday.

On August 14, Lema will give a golf exhibition at 1:30 p.m. and the match will start at 2 p.m. Tickets will cost $3 per person, and will go on sale at most country clubs and certain stores at a time to be announced later.

Whitey Three-Hits Orioles As Yanks Gain First Place
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees wrested first place from Baltimore Wednesday defeating the Orioles 2-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Whitey Ford. Joe Pepitone drove in the Yankee runs with a second inning single.

The victory was the second in succession over the Orioles and increased the Yankees' winning streak to six straight. The three-game series will be concluded Thursday with right-hander Jim Bouton of the Yankees opposing Orioles southpaw Steve Barber.

Ford treated the crowd of 26,476 to one of his finest pitching performances of the year. He struck out five to take over the league's strikeout leadership with 110. Whitey did not issue a walk as he outpitched his rival, Dave McNally, and recorded his 12th triumph of the campaign against only two losses.

The veteran left-hander did not permit a runner beyond first base. Sam Bowens, the Baltimore left-fielder, singled to center with one out in the second but Ford disposed of Gino Cimoli on a fly to Roger Maris and got Jerry Adair to ground out. Adair singled to center with two out in the eighth but John Orsino grounded to third, ending the inning.

Jackie Brandt singled with one out in the ninth but Luis Aparicio lined to Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson threw out Boog Powell to end the game. Pinch hitter Bob Johnson made the first out of the inning, ending a league record string of six consecutive pinch hits.

PGA Opens Today At Columbus C.C.

By WILL GRIMSLEY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack Nicklaus opens defense of his PGA golf championship on Thursday, bolstered by home cooking and apparently unshaken by the threat of the game's two newest rockets, Tony Lema and Ken Venturi.

"They have their hot streaks, and I have mine," said the 210-pound powerhouse with a shrug of his massive shoulders.

"To me, they are just two other guys in the field. I play my game. I win some. I lose some. If I'm lucky, I win a big one."

At 24, Nicklaus already has joined Gene Sarazen, Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan as the only players to win the three major American championships — the Masters, Open and PGA.

He is seeking to become the first since Denny Shute in 1936-37 to put PGA titles back to back.

Varsity 'S' To Meet
STROUDSBURG — The Varsity "S" Club meets tonight at 8 p.m. at the Stroudsburg Fire House. The upcoming football season will be discussed.

All men who wish or intend to coach in the junior football league are urged to attend.

Andy Selick, the Stroud Union coach, will be on hand to meet anyone who has not met him.

Lehigh To Wrestle UCLA On Dec. 19
BETHLEHEM — Lehigh University's defending Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association champions will oppose UCLA Saturday, December 19 at 2:30 p.m. in Grace Hall at Lehigh. It was announced today by Athletic Director William B. Lockenby.

The Bruins' appearance will be one leg of an eastern tour to be made by the squad and will also mark the first time a West Coast mat team has been pitted against the Engineers in Grace Hall.

The match has been scheduled for the afternoon in order to get an early start home for the Christmas holidays. The Christmas recess starts the same day as the meet.

UCLA will be the first of two mat teams from the western part of the country to compete here next season against head coach Gerry Leeman and company. Iowa State University will visit the campus January 15, 1965.

The Engineers, who have captured more Eastern titles than any other school, have dominated opponents from the Midwest in 16 previous matches. They have piled up a 10-6 advantage, including a 3-1 edge over Kansas State and a 2-1 margin over Indiana.

The remainder of the Engineers' won and lost series with mid-western mat teams includes Chicago (1-0), Illinois (1-0), Nebraska (1-0), Michigan (1-0), Oklahoma (1-2).

Lehigh's complete varsity wrestling schedule for the 1964-65 season includes: December 5, Cornell; 12 at Syracuse; 16, at Yale; 19 UCLA; Jan. 2, at Penn State; 15, Iowa State University; 30, Princeton; February 6, Navy; 13 at Army; 20, Pittsburgh; 24, Franklin and Marshall; 27, Rutgers.

The pitchers for the Phillies were Melko and Jensen with Eric Jensen catching.

PGA Opens Today At Columbus C.C.

By WILL GRIMSLEY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack Nicklaus opens defense of his PGA golf championship on Thursday, bolstered by home cooking and apparently unshaken by the threat of the game's two newest rockets, Tony Lema and Ken Venturi.

"They have their hot streaks, and I have mine," said the 210-pound powerhouse with a shrug of his massive shoulders.

"To me, they are just two other guys in the field. I play my game. I win some. I lose some. If I'm lucky, I win a big one."

At 24, Nicklaus already has joined Gene Sarazen, Byron Nelson and Ben Hogan as the only players to win the three major American championships — the Masters, Open and PGA.

He is seeking to become the first since Denny Shute in 1936-37 to put PGA titles back to back.

Nicklaus, playing before a home town gallery, is the favorite at 4-1. Arnold Palmer, the Masters champion, and Lema, winner of the British Open last weekend at St. Andrews, are 6-1, with Venturi, the reigning Open king, listed at 8-1.

You can get anything from 10-1 to 200-1 on others in the crack international field of 163, which begins teeing off at 7 a.m. (EST) over the short and sporty Columbus Country Club, where par is 70.

Most of the players are convinced that par will take a murderous shellacking, with the winner likely shooting as low as 270 or 272.

Milwaukee To Fight For Braves
MILWAUKEE (AP) — After a two-hour conference with Milwaukee Braves Board Chairman William Bartholomay, Milwaukee County Executive John Doyle said Wednesday the community is "going to fight" to retain the baseball club.

Doyle said Bartholomay repeatedly assured me that the club has no commitment elsewhere.

"In that case and in the light of admitted offers, other cities after it, we are going to fight for it," Doyle declared.

Rumors that the Braves have been headed for Atlanta, Ga., have been widely circulated for a year.

3 Picked For Lema Foursome
STROUDSBURG — Three eastern Pennsylvania golf professionals have been picked to play a benefit round of golf with Champagne Tony Lema August 14.

The round proceeds will go to the Monroe County General Hospital Building Fund.

M. Stiles (Marty) Baldwin said the professionals who will fill Lema's foursome are Paul Patton, pro at Glen Brook Country Club where the round will be staged; Bill Boorman, pro at Shawnee Country Club; and Harold Dymond of Scranton Country Club.

The decision to seek acceptance of these professionals was made in Baldwin's office yesterday. Russell Imb, Sr., is chairman of the campaign.

Baldwin and William Nixon are co-chairmen.

Lema is being offered to participate in the tournament through the Ford Foundation.

Acceptances were taken from the three professionals yesterday.

On August 14, Lema will give a golf exhibition at 1:30 p.m. and the match will start at 2 p.m. Tickets will cost $3 per person, and will go on sale at most country clubs and certain stores at a time to be announced later.

Whitey Three-Hits Orioles As Yanks Gain First Place
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees wrested first place from Baltimore Wednesday defeating the Orioles 2-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Whitey Ford. Joe Pepitone drove in the Yankee runs with a second inning single.

The victory was the second in succession over the Orioles and increased the Yankees' winning streak to six straight. The three-game series will be concluded Thursday with right-hander Jim Bouton of the Yankees opposing Orioles southpaw Steve Barber.

Ford treated the crowd of 26,476 to one of his finest pitching performances of the year. He struck out five to take over the league's strikeout leadership with 110. Whitey did not issue a walk as he outpitched his rival, Dave McNally, and recorded his 12th triumph of the campaign against only two losses.

The veteran left-hander did not permit a runner beyond first base. Sam Bowens, the Baltimore left-fielder, singled to center with one out in the second but Ford disposed of Gino Cimoli on a fly to Roger Maris and got Jerry Adair to ground out. Adair singled to center with two out in the eighth but John Orsino grounded to third, ending the inning.

Jackie Brandt singled with one out in the ninth but Luis Aparicio lined to Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson threw out Boog Powell to end the game. Pinch hitter Bob Johnson made the first out of the inning, ending a league record string of six consecutive pinch hits.

Pocono Saddle Club Plans Annual Horse Show Sunday

STROUDSBURG—More than 550 exhibitors from seven states will participate in the 8th annual Pocono Saddle Club horse show which will get underway 10 a.m. Sunday, July 19, at 1011 Meadow Stables, a mile west of Stroudsburg on Route 209.

This year's show "A Day in the Country" will feature a variety of new innovations for area horse shows. The program is arranged so that spectators may divide their time or spend all of it where events please best. The hours of cutting horse events will be held separately from the 20 classes that are scheduled. There will be at least three arenas working at the same time plus other outdoor jumping events and western trail classes.

The show is run under Northeastern Pennsylvania Horse Show Association; American Quarter Horse Association; American Horse Show Association; National Cutting Horse Association and East Coast Cutting Horse Association sanction and rules. Post Entries will be accepted.

Free Feds
For early exhibitors there will be free coffee and doughnuts served from a pony pulled wagon from the Van B. Pony Farm from Mauretown. There will be plenty of parking and shaded grandstands for spectators. Refreshments will be available under supervision of the Stroud Township Fire Co., auxiliary.

Pocono Archers will present an exhibition of their bow and arrow skill. There will be a demonstration of horseshoeing and a variety of other horsemanship skills. "We'll have plenty of surprises," Howard Lininger, Saddle club president said.

The "Day in the Country" feel will permit families to pack lunches and spend the day watching the show or taking advantage of the outdoor area. There will be pony rides for the kiddies.

Working Mounts
Top notch riders will work their mounts in both pleasure, working and jumping events. The fast paced western game classes of pole bending and clover leaf races against the clock will find some of the fastest horses in the east making their dash against time for ribbons and cash prizes.

The Saddle club show, in its eighth year has always been rated among the top area shows.

The show gets under way at 10 a.m. with hunt seat equitation, a northeast Pennsylvania Horse Show Association high point class. This followed by Stock saddle seat equitation, open jumping for juniors and open jumping for senior riders, western pleasure, senior riders, hunter hack, pole bending and green hunter, all run as NEPHSA high point class.

First go round in the National cutting horse association cutting contest with a purse of $300 plus will then be followed by the clover leaf race and western pleasure for the junior rider.

Registered Reining
Registered reining — all ages run under American Quarter Horse Assn., will be followed by regular working hunter, the novice NCHA cutting contest, scurry jumping, registered western pleasure for junior riders, triple bar class, registered trail horse — all ages, registered western pleasure for the senior rider and the second go round NCHA cutting contest.

There will be 13 halter classes including a grand champion and reserve champion mares and stallions which will be run separately from the other events during the day.

Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in all classes except where there are cash prizes.

'No Speet In Omp's Face'

LOS ANGELES — Victor Felipe Pellet, whose stage name is Vic Power, admits readily that he doesn't overwhelm people with his virtue.

As a young and single man, he had a distinct fondness for ladies, complicating his life often, as a fondness for ladies will. He has been a longtime Yankee-baiter, a man who will throw a punch at another and one who will occasionally resist authority.

But never, insists Vic, would he commit such a heinous act as spitting in someone's face. He wouldn't in fact, even spit on someone's foot.

"Maybe I punch guy in the nose," says Mr. Power, who comes from Arecibo, Puerto Rico, "but speet, never."

Vic is currently serving a 10-day suspension on a charge by umpire Jim Honochick that he spit on the umpire's face by Power during a game the other night between the Angels and White Sox.

The player also got a $250 fine, making the penalty, overall, the stiffest in the major leagues in years. Leo Durack, who got only three days for kicking an umpire in the shins, which indicates that if you are prone to attack an umpire, you will get off lighter working below the belt.

Unwillingly, Power denies Honochick's charge. The argument had started over a play at third base, where Vic was stationed. Bill Rigney decided to debate the issue, but was dropped from the conversation. Fast Power took up the cause.

Touch Weeth Chest "Een thee rhubarb," says Vic, "I touch thee omp with my chest. He says eef I do that again, he gonna punch me in the nose. I say go 'head and punch, man."

"Well, when the omp tells the story later, he says he threatened to punch me after I speet, wheech ees not true, because I do not speet and I can prove eet."

"How can you prove it?" he inquired.

"You speet een man's face, and what's first thing he do? He wipe eet off. He jus' don't stond there and let speet roll down hees cheeks. Nobody sees the omp wipe off anything."

It is, you must admit, a fine academic point. When a wet one is suspected, does the manager call for the face?

No one asked to examine the countenance of Honochick, making it his word against Power's. The league president strung along with the ump, an act which has disturbed the player enormously.

"I talk to my lawyer, a Meester Friedman," says Vic. "And he tells me that maybe we sue." "On what grounds? we inquired.

"Whatever grounds that Meester Friedman say," answered Vic. "Ten days is long time suspension and eet make me look like bod fellow. Een weenter time, I'm public relations man. Ees no good for public relations bes-ness to have man who speets in other people's faces, especially when he does not speet."

"You know why ees ees possible for me to speet? My mouth ees so dry from hot day that nothing comes out."

Now 32, Power has been in baseball since the age of 15, having started in the winter leagues in the Caribbean. Asked if he ever has been accused of dispensing saliva, he answered.

"One time, many years ago, I argue weeth omp and bobble gum flies out of my mouth."

"In the umpire's face?" he was asked.

"No, on hees chest. He ask me een Spanish eef I speet out thee gom, and I say no, thee gom flies out by accident. He throws me out of thee game, but no suspension."

Although Vic has a history for combat of one kind or another, he points out that this is the first rhubarb in which he has engaged in more than a year.

"My las' trouble was een Detroit," he recalls. "Thot peetcher Regan say he steek thee ball een my ear eef I don't stond back. Nex' evening, he gets walk and comes to first where I'm playing. I say to heem, 'Honey, where you want me to stond nex' time?' He says something nasty."

Power responded by whipping Regan over the head with his glove, and the fight was on. Vic was thrown out of the game and fined $50.

Fun Spreads In N'fld 'Pajama Game'

By Peggy Banceoff
Record Correspondent

NEWFOUNDLAND — Fun is contagious, and the cast of the Newfoundland Musical Theatre's second seasonal offering, "Pajama Game," spread the symptoms throughout the audience Tuesday night. Everybody, including the players, had a good time!

Such shenanigans as "Her 15" (sung by Joey Sauter and Joan Kohn, and again by Sauter and Linda Lee Whitbeck), and "I'll Never Be Jealous Again," by Joe Elia and Miss Whitbeck, pace this uproarious comedy about a factory - born and factory - torn love affair.

The story is set in the Sleep-Tite Pajama Factory, where, although a time - motion-study expert (Elia) keeps things humming, labor troubles finally erupt. With a strike in the offing, a love affair between the plant's representative (Keith Baker) and the head of the plant's engineering committee (Linda Lee) runs into trouble.

Excellent Vehicle

A long-run Broadway musical comedy hit, "The Pajama Game" is an excellent vehicle for the Musical Theatre Company in Newfoundland. Joe Elia, Joan Kohn, and Joe Sauter, who capered with glee and polish through the company's initial offering, "Guys and Dolls," had just as gay a time with Sleep-Tite's troubles, and the trio's superb sense of timing rated them each A-plus in their musical numbers.

Keith Baker, who has won rave reviews for his roles in Summer theatre prior to this season, got off to a slow start with his official position as "boss" of the factory, but made up for lost time in "Hey, There," a highlight of the show, and, with Tina Marie, (a convincing "Babe" with whom he falls in love,) gave "There Once Was a Man" exactly the treatment it needed.

The audience loved "Steam Heat," a union production number staged as a small riot by versatile Gretchen MacLanc, rubber-faced John Apicella, and efficient Ron Talbert.

Don Norris neared apoplexy with his beleaguered interpretation of Hasler, who preferred fighting to giving in to a 7 1/2-cent raise. However, his role offered no opportunity for the audience to hear his fine tenor voice.

Linda Lee Whitbeck, whose role required her to hide her natural charms in the guise of an ungirdled secretary, displayed a real talent for comedy in restraint.

Produced by Anthony Carone, Pajama Game was directed by Jerry Marshall with Gretchen MacLanc collaborating as choreographer; Bette Kaelin as set and costume designer; and Douglas Finny as musical director. To Finny and his assistant, Richard Samuels, together with James Erwin as percussionist, goes a great deal of credit for producing the kind of music that prompts the audience to sing, whistle or hum as they go home after the final curtain.

Next: "Gypsy"

Pajama Game continues through this week and next at Newfoundland. It will be followed by a two-week run of the hit musical, "Gypsy."

Roseto Council Reviews Bills

ROSETO — Matthew Sabatino, chairman of the finance committee of Roseto Borough Council, met with council members this week to review bills presented for payment at the next meeting.

Anthony Sabatino, chairman of the health committee, announced that in view of the recent Northampton County Court decision people from Roseto and those from outside the borough having permits are not to use the Roseto dump anymore.

A meeting of the area's municipalities will be held Monday night in the Bangor Borough Council chamber to discuss the garbage disposal.

Bangor Man Completes Course

BANGOR — A Bangor man recently completed a two weeks course in the fundamentals of welding engineering at Ohio State University at Columbus. He was one of 40 engineers awarded a certificate of completion at a dinner ending the seminar.

Edward A. Fusakio of 307 N. Fifth St., a metallurgical engineer employed in the materials development section of P.S.s. at Research and Engineering, at Madison, N.J., was sponsored by his company. The program provided a background for working on welding engineering problems.

Fusakio is a 1963 graduate of Lafayette College.

'Sound Of Music' Great

By Jeff Cox
Daily Record Reporter

MOUNTAINHOME — To get quickly to the point, "The Sound of Music," which opened for a two-week stand at Pocomo Playhouse Monday, is just great.

There have been very few unenjoyable Rodgers and Hammerstein shows, and this isn't one of them.

A big part of the outstanding production of the show at the Playhouse is Jack Bates. The man is a genius. He does the sets. You don't find better sets on the New York stages.

More lavish, yes; more attractive, no.

The "Sound of Music" is an entrancing play in all its concept and execution. A postulant in an abbey in 1938 Austria is so boisterous with song she is sent away as governess to a rich war baron with seven kids.

By the time the thing ends, the postulant is married to the war baron and the seven kids are making like the Lennon Sisters and Brothers. They flee Austria with the Nazi gauleiter hot on their heels.

As we all know, they came to America and became famous as the Trapp Family Singers.

The people behind these fanciful creatures of Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse are truly professional. Evelyn Wyckoff played Maria, the postulant turned wife. Her bounce and verve set the tone for the whole production.

Dean Norton as Captain Von Trapp is the best leading man they've had at the Playhouse this season.

Nadine Lewis is the mother Abbess. She's totally convincing. It's sort of a shock to read the program notes and find out she's recorded rock 'n' roll songs.

The seven children of the Von Trapp family are every bit as good as the adults. Where do they find such prodigies? They sing, dance, act charming at the right times, and in general, come across as children, not as kids playing-acting.

It's a huge cast, and would take forever to compliment. To expedite matters, it must be said that the whole cast is very competent.

What makes this play so entertaining is the songs. "My Favorite Things" is certainly one of the best songs Rodgers ever wrote. The lyrics are as good as the music.

Sensitivity In Music

Hammerstein injected a sensitivity into his lyrics that has seldom been equaled in American. They're not trash. They're not sloppily sentimental — they have a meaning in the context of the play, and outside the context of the play.

The way the cast handles the songs brings out this sensitivity. One couldn't ask for more than this.

Ruth Newton directed. She saw her job, and did it. People in the play acted like the Trapp family, they were the Trapp family.

This is a "must-see." Unless you've seen it before — and even then...

To sum up, we'll paraphrase the words of "My Favorite Things":

"Actors with talent that don't grunt and giggle. Singers who sing well and muses who are regal. Colorful settings that glide from the wings. These are a few of my favorite things."

Lionel Hampton At Tamiment

TAMIMENT — Lionel Hampton, his international orchestra and revue, will be the featured attraction at Tamiment's sixth annual jazz festival.

Hampton will appear Saturday night only.

The resort also reported that the three-concert appearance of the Curtis String Quartet last weekend was highly successful. Proceeds were donated to the Pocomo Art Center.

Explosion Families Say: 'Help Others Before Us'

By Jim Ollaway Jr.
Daily Record Editor
STROUDSBURG — The generosity of Pocono Mountain people who gave $17,702 to the Marshalls Creek Disaster Fund has been matched by those they wanted to help.

Jesse D. Pierson, chairman of the seven-man committee disbursing the fund, said the attitude of the 19 families dislocated by the June 26 explosion near Marshalls Creek of a truck carrying 15 tons of explosives was:

"Take care of the others first. I need some help, but put me at the bottom of the list."

Neighborly Feeling
Pierson, manager of Sears Roebuck in Stroudsburg, said, "It's almost the same friendly, neighborly feeling as that of the people who gave so much so willingly."

In fact, he said, the committee is finding it difficult to get some of the families to tell their immediate needs, and to ask for help.

Pierson asserted that the first job of the committee is to meet the immediate needs of families and people who were injured, lost family members, or suffered heavy household damage.

Although disaster families may receive insurance payments, court suit settlements or other reimbursement later for their loss, the committee has said to them, "Don't get in a bind now."

Ask for Help
In a plea for full and honest expression of personal needs, Pierson said to those affected by the blast:

"If we have missed you, or have visited you and you have not expressed yourself fully, please do so now."

He urged the families themselves or friends and relatives to contact members of the committee directly.

$800 Mistake An Honest One

HARRISBURG (AP) — John Beston of Fairton, N. J., stopped at a restaurant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Sunday to order a ham and cheese sandwich to go.

He walked out with $800 in the restaurant's cash receipts instead.

Turnpike authorities, who related the tale, said it was all an innocent mistake.

Beston simply picked up the wrong bag at the cash register, they said.

When he discovered his error after he was on the road again, he immediately drove to the next restaurant in the turnpike chain and returned the money.

He was asked what he wanted. "A ham and cheese sandwich to go," he replied.

UN Hopes Slim On Cyprus Issue

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Gola Plaza Lasso, U.N. special representative in Cyprus, left Tuesday, indicating U.N. hopes for solving the Cyprus problem on the spot have grown slim.

With leaders of several Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities refusing to budge from their positions toward a settlement, Plaza and his team of civilian U.N. officials have been unable to reach any compromise or negotiate any substantial reduction in the tension.

U.N. efforts on the island have become a virtual holding operation to prevent Greeks and Turks from shedding more blood.

House Collapses

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A house collapsed after two days of heavy rains today, killing 10 persons, most of them children, and injuring 6 others. The two-story house was believed to have been 300 years old.

When your family celebrates a Special Family Occasion— Welcome Wagon Calls

When your family celebrates a sixteenth birthday, announces an engagement or the birth of a new baby, or moves to a new home, your Welcome Wagon Hostess will call with a basket of gifts...and friendly greetings from the religious, civic and business leaders of our community.

Committee members are Pierson, chairman; Mrs. Harold S. Pond, secretary; Joseph A. Lisiecky, treasurer; Dr. Leroy J. Koehler, Stuart F. Pipper, the Rev. Harold C. Eaton and Atty. Arlington Williams.

Personal Visits
Pierson complimented the committee members for visiting the 19 families personally. He said this was suggested by Judge Fred W. Davis, who resigned from the committee because of possible judicial conflict when cases arising from the disaster damage may be heard in Monroe County Court.

Big Job Later
The committee has already given $1,200 in help to four families. In a letter with the first gifts, Pierson said it was just a partial contribution for immediate emergency needs, given by friends and neighbors.

He asked those being helped to feel free to ask for more help if needed.

The committee feels its big job and hardest work will come, perhaps in several months, perhaps longer, after insurance claims and court suits are settled for damages.

"We expect fair compensation for property damage," Pierson said. "And we think there is a strong feeling on the part of those who have that the money should go to people, not for physical property."

Help For Children
He said he expects the bulk of the fund to go into trust funds or scholarships for the raising and education of children of the three Marshalls Creek firemen and the Scranton truck driver who called in the alarm.

Horvath A Hero
John J. Horvath, 24, a Scranton cinder truck driver, who discovered the unattended truck with burning tires, turned in the alarm, and was blown to his death, "is universally admired" for his action, Pierson said.

The families of Horvath and the three firemen suffered the greatest personal loss, Pierson said, because they are now without a breadwinner.

Pierson pledged that the committee would be as fair and impartial in its distribution of the funds as it can be.

"This is going to be a difficult job because everyone's attitude toward help varies greatly. It will be difficult to be totally fair," Pierson said.

He gave an example of one couple whose house was badly damaged, whose clothes were ruined and who were forced to move. All they asked for was a toaster. The committee bought one.

Pierson advised disaster families to be represented by a lawyer and to seek advice from a lawyer rather than looking to the committee for advice on damage claims or other personal problems.

He said many more than 19 families suffered some household damage, but the committee wants to limit its aid to people personally injured and dislocated by the household damage.

Kiwanis Club Entertained By Playhouse Actress

STROUDSBURG — Karen Ford, understudy of the star of Pocono Playhouse's attraction, "Sound of Music," entertained the Kiwanis Club of Stroudsburg at the weekly luncheon, Wednesday, July 15, at the Penn Stroud Hotel.

Miss Ford is now playing her third role in "The Sound of Music," having recently completed the cross-country national tour as Sister Margaretta for 18 performances.

The versatile actress has a long list of comedy roles to her credit, ranging from Sarah Brown in "Guys & Dolls" to Lulu in "Kismet," and from the Hammer and Decoy. She has also been a frequent performer on TV commercials and industrial shows.

Miss Ford was accompanied on the piano by Joseph Richter.

The program chairman was Harold O. Bates.

Guests attending the meeting were Harry J. Weiss, Jr. of South Orlando, Florida; Charles Evans, Scout Executive from Warren County, New Jersey; Dick Hall, Drexel Hill Pa. and Ralph Carella of the Mt. Vernon, New York Kiwanis Club.

Education Job
WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — In a stepped up drive against traffic accidents the Kansas Highway Patrol gave 393 safety programs in the state during January 1964.

Col. Larry Hughes, Highway Patrol superintendent, estimated that 65,000 persons attended the programs.

Ethel Merman role in "Girl Crazy" to a mother of five in "Meet Me in St. Louis." TV viewers have seen her on the Bilko Show, Day in Court, Mike Hammer and Decoy. She has also been a frequent performer on TV commercials and industrial shows.

Not Much Vino
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Compared with Europeans, Americans don't rate very high as wine drinkers, but they're improving all the time, the California Wine Institute reports. Its latest figures show American per capita consumption is ninetieth of a gallon annually. The French are first 33 gallons per person per year, followed by the Italians with 29.5 and Portuguese and Argentines with 20 each.

About 85 per cent of American wine is produced in California, and Californians are their own best customers. Their per capita consumption is twice the national average.

Gap's 75th Anniversary To Feature Youth Events

DELAWARE WATER GAP — The celebration marking the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the Delaware Water Gap Borough will feature contests for Gap youngsters.

The contests were outlined at a recent meeting of Mayor Arthur Lehr, members of his anniversary committee, and about 30 borough boys and girls at the firehall.

The celebration will be July 31 and Aug. 1.

Contests open to the youngsters will include art contest open to anyone from kindergarten age up to 18. All entries are to be in by July 27. A list of prizes will be at the post office will announce where art objects are to be taken. Use of the Methodist Church's Sunday School room has been requested for that day. Mrs. George Brands is chairman.

A scholastic contest for the boy or girl who has received the most "A's" in school. There will be one prize for elementary school pupils and another for high school students. Mrs. Del Davis is chairman and school marks of those entering must be handed in before July 27. The winners will be asked to show their report cards to substantiate claims.

A handicraft contest is also scheduled. Entries close July 27 at the same place as the art contest.

Swimming events for boys and girls up to 18 is chairmaned by Mrs. Ben Geshensky. Those wishing to compete should notify her by July 18.

Del Davis is in charge of the running contest — from Cherry Valley corner up Main St. to the post office and a baseball throw for Little Leaguers and Minor Leaguers.

A bicycle contest for two age groups will also be held on Main St. The chairman is William Snow.

A watermelon-eating contest will be held in front of the band stand.

Mrs. John Jennings, Sr. was named chairman of the popularity contest. David Clarkson, George Rohaley, Pat Werkheiser, and Doris Widdoss are to make a list of all children and teenagers of the borough. Each boy has a vote for the "most popular" girl and each girl a vote for the "most popular" boy. He or she should put their nominee's name in a sealed envelope and give it to Mrs. Jennings. The votes must be registered by July 27.

There will be a Pet Parade open to children 12 and under July 31 at 4 p.m. at the school grounds. George Brands is chairman.

Mayor Lehr said there will be a 50-piece band on Friday night and six or seven instrument players Saturday night. The concert will be on the lot near DeVice Keiper's home, Main St.

The Tobychanna Signal Corps Depot will be represented July 31 for a ceremony honoring Delaware Water Gap's war heroes.

The queen of the celebration will be crowned Friday night also.

There will be a cake walk both Friday and Saturday nights.

Saturday's festivities will open with a parade of decorated floats in which hotels, businesses and clubs are competing. Square dancing and just old-home-town.

Pen Argyl Best Looking Fire Group

PEN ARGYL — The Lookout Fire Co. of Pen Argyl was chosen the best looking unit in the annual Tatamy firemen's parade over the weekend. The parade climaxed the company's carnival.

Other awards were won by the Vigilance Hose Co. of Nazareth for the best looking apparatus in the line of march; the Liberty Hose Co. of Stockertown, for having the oldest usable fire truck; the Blue Angels Drum and Bugle Corps of Wind Gap, as the best musical unit; and the Oxford, N. J. Fire Co. Auxiliary as the best looking auxiliary.

The Tatamy firemen led the parade of 18 fire companies, five auxiliaries and four bands. Tatamy officials also participated. Judges were Capt. Stephen Reno of Bethlehem; Lt. Frederick E. May Jr. of Easton and Chief George Summick of Palmerton.

Eastburg Man Jailed 30 Days

EAST STROUDSBURG — Edward Aep, 59, of East Stroudsburg, was sentenced to 30 days in the Monroe County jail Monday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Aep received a hearing last night before Harold Larson, Sr., Justice of the Peace in East Stroudsburg. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was jailed in default of $19 fine and costs. He was apprehended at 91 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, by East Stroudsburg police Saturday at 8:45 a. m.

Youth Fails In Escape Bid

EASTON — An 18-year-old Pen Argyl youth fled from Easton State Police momentarily Monday night as he was about to be remanded to Northampton County jail.

James H. Brinton of 495 Railroad Ave., Pen Argyl was being returned to the jail after a hearing before Lawrence F. Hahn, Justice of the Peace in Plainfield Twp. He is charged with driving while his license was under suspension.

He was caught later by Easton police and jailed. He is being held for court.

ESSC Dormitory Bid Date Announced

HARRISBURG — General State Authority yesterday set Aug. 12 as the bid date for construction of a woman's dormitory at East Stroudsburg State College.

GSA has allocated $1,155,000 for the project, part of the college's master campus plan.

According to Summer Bossler, business manager of the college, the seven-story dormitory will be built on Isabel St. He said it will house 300 girls.

First High-Rise Building
The dormitory is the first high-rise building on the campus, Bossler said, and will have an elevator. It was designed by Rinker, Kiefer and Rake, architects, of Stroudsburg.

Unemployment Compensation Law's Amendments Clarified

This is the second series of questions and answers on the new amendments to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law which went into effect July 1, 1964. The series is geared to help clarify further the amendments to the UC Law as they pertain to claimants.

Questions and answers on the Unemployment Compensation Amendments effective July 1, 1964:

1. Q. If I am working less than full time after July 1, will I qualify for partial benefits?

A. Yes. Partial benefits will continue to be paid for weeks of partial unemployment. In fact, many workers will receive increased partial payments as a result of increased weekly benefit rates and partial credit allowances under the new benefit table.

2. Q. I am a steelworker. When I am unemployed I receive "SUB" (Supplemental Unemployment Benefits) from my employer. Will these payments be deducted from my unemployment compensation after July 1?

A. No. The amendments to the UC Law effective July 1 do not affect your entitlement to unemployment compensation while receiving SUB.

3. Q. I am employed in a food processing plant. When I am laid off, will I be denied unemployment compensation because I am a so-called seasonal worker?

A. No. Your eligibility to receive unemployment compensation will be determined in the same manner as other claimants. The law does not differentiate between seasonal workers and other workers.

4. Q. Are pregnant women deprived of their UC rights under the amended UC Law?

A. No. The only change affecting pregnant women is to test their availability for work after the birth of the child. This is a work test requiring such claimants to earn four times her weekly benefit rate — the equivalent of two weeks of work. This requirement is waived if she is unable to return to work because of a plant shut-down or a reduction in force.

Never Affected

5. Q. Is it true that my husband and I cannot receive unemployment compensation for the same period?

A. No. Your eligibility for unemployment compensation benefits is never affected by the fact that your husband is receiving benefits during the same period. It is also true that if your husband is employed this has no bearing on your eligibility to receive unemployment compensation.

6. Q. If our plant is closed for vacation but I do not receive vacation pay, will I be entitled to unemployment compensation benefits during this period?

A. Yes. If you are otherwise eligible, that is to say able and available for work, etc.

7. Q. If I am only temporarily laid off and expect to be recalled in a week or so, will the new UC Law require me to make an active search for work?

A. No. This amendment to the law was not intended to require a search for work where it would serve no practical purpose, or to require claimants to leave their labor market area.

8. Q. Have the amendments to the law eliminated the possibility of receiving a "second round of benefits?"

A. No. The amendments do provide that a moderate work test be met before a claimant will be eligible for the so-called "second round" of benefits. To meet this test the claimant must work and earn 10 times his weekly benefit amount (5 weeks of work) between the date of filing his first application and prior to filing his new claim.

By Work Performed

9. Q. To meet this test, is it necessary that the earnings be received from my previous employer?

A. No. The earnings test may be met by work performed for any employer — and without regard to their being covered by the taxing provisions of the UC Law.

10. Q. Has the amended law eliminated the "step down" provisions in computing a claimant's eligibility?

A. No. In many cases the improved benefit table will qualify a claimant for a higher weekly rate although he had lower base year wages than those required under the old law, thus eliminating the need to step down. However, if a "step down" is needed to qualify, the amended law permits the eligibility to be computed at the next lower level of the table.

11. Q. What are the benefit payments under the new law?

A. The new law increases the maximum weekly rate from $40 to $45. To qualify for the $45 weekly rate, the claimant must have base year earnings of only $1,620, the equivalent of 48 weeks of work. Previously it was necessary to have base year earnings in the amount of $1,825 to qualify for a $48 rate. Anyone who qualifies for compensation will be eligible for at least 18 weeks. The number of weeks a claimant will be entitled to receive will be increased by one week for each week of work during the base year up to a maximum of 30 weeks.

Will Be Deducted

12. Q. If I am receiving a company pension or social security pension, will I be denied UC benefits?

A. The amended law provides that retirement pensions paid by an employer from a fund to which the employer was the sole contributor will be deducted from the unemployment compensation that is otherwise payable. If a claimant is receiving a social security pension or other retirement pension from a fund to which both the claimant and employer contributed, 50 per cent of such weekly pension payments will be deducted.

13. Q. What are some of the other major changes provided for in the amended law?

A. The Governor is now authorized to extend UC benefits to the unemployed during periods of a statewide recession by 50 per cent — or a maximum of 30 weeks of full compensation payments in one year.

A lower UC tax rate was authorized for new employers locating in the State. This is an inducement to attract new industries and provide many new job opportunities for the unemployed.

Employers will be required to pay taxes for each employee on earnings up to $3,600 a year instead of the present $3,000 limitation. This will provide additional revenue for the fund, assuring the workers that money will be available to pay benefits in future periods of unemployment.

14. Q. Where may more detailed information about the amendments be gotten?

A. Visit the nearest local office of the Bureau of Employment Security. For this locality it would be 488 Main Street, Stroudsburg.

Don't Lose Your Social Security Card

EASTON — Don't lose your social security card! Your social security account number card is one of the most important documents that you possess, according to Edward F. Sullivan, social security district manager in Easton.

Sullivan also said that proper use of social security cards is equally important. There are more than 100 million individual accounts in the social security records, with many of them under names exactly like yours.

Your social security account number card is used to keep a record of your earnings, covered by the Social Security Act. If your work is covered under the Act, you must have a social security account number all your life.

Your name and account number are used so that you can get full credit for your earnings. The correct recording of these earnings is necessary so that old-age, survivors, or disability insurance benefits can be paid in the correct amount.

Be sure to show your card to each employer so that he may use your name and account number exactly as they appear on the card when he reports your wages. If you are self-employed, copy your name and account number on the form you use to report your net earnings for social security credit.

Because your social security number is also used by the Internal Revenue Service to identify taxpayers, it must be shown at banks and other financial institutions where you receive dividends, wages, interest and other income.

The social security card is not intended to be used as identification, Sullivan said.

Cy Barrett Says

Successful Retirement

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.
DEAR CY:
Retirement has turned into a faster rat race for my husband. The day he retired, he walked across the street from his old firm to an office he rented in another building. From that moment on, he has been a bundle of nerves, working 12 hours a day to put his new company in the black. He doesn't need the money, but I need him. Wouldn't he be better taking retirement seriously and forsaking the tension of business?

MRS. JANIS
DEAR MRS. JANIS:
Many new concepts for aging have been advanced these past few years, among them this one reported by the Committee on Aging, American Medical Association: "We are constantly being bombarded with case histories of corporation executives who 'keel over' from 'tension' or 'pressure' they are subjected to."

But we don't hear about those individuals who waste away quietly from lack of tension or stimulation of any kind. What the Committee feels is that the key to positive health lies in struggle rather than retreat — in enjoyment rather than avoidance of the stress of living. It might be said that "wounds of combat" are definitely preferable to the decay of idleness, both from a biological and moral standpoint. I suggest your husband remove himself from the rat track long enough to consult your family physician.

DEAR CY:
My stepister and her husband are planning to sell their home and move in with us to cut expenses of both households. This may not be the ideal situation, but we are congenial and are together a great deal anyway. A friend told my husband to figure out how much they would have to pay in rent for the same kind of living space and bill them each month accordingly. Do you agree? We want to make a fair arrangement.

DORIS D.
I can't agree with your husband's advisor, whether amateur, professional or the dear old himself. If you want to be fair (with two adults in each family), since all expenses down the middle. In addition, charge your stepister and her husband half the yearly depreciation on the house. When fighting expenses, include taxes, insurance, food, and tranquilizers.

DEAR CY:
Where is the best place for me to go in Washington to get a job with the federal government? I might travel there this month, but don't know which branch of the government would be best suited for me. With 2,305,000 on the federal payroll last year, I should find something right.

MURDOCK
DEAR MURDOCK:
Before pulverizing shoe leather and transportation money, write for some government publications which may head you in the right direction. Through the Superintendent of Documents, in Washington, D.C., the following pertinent material is available to you: "The Way To A Job In Government" (5 cents); "Federal Jobs Overseas" (10 cents); "Employment Outlook in Government Occupations" (15 cents); "Women in Federal Service" (15 cents); "Federal Career Directory" (60 cents). You may also wish to check your library for "Homestead Course for Civil Service Jobs," published by Arco Publishing Company, P. S. According to old-timers in business, "What you don't do with your head, you'll do with your hands or your feet."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Thursday, July 16, 1964
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Wearing ANY precious time on this fine day would be unworthy of you. And your instincts. Note what is needed in all matters; go to their pushing.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Steady does it — also you will up on the fine balance now existing in so many situations. Proceed thoughtfully, listen carefully, but off colors in forgotten corners.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Now you have a chance to display your showmanship and your skill in being able to come up with a switch in tactics that changes the stagnant or humdrum into the live.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Many persons will try to deter you from your true course, but if you permit, in business, be concise, know facts; in other affairs, be gentle as you also recognize facts.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You may have in fact an already friendly disposition, even downright hostility, so take time firmly in hand and direct your efforts and intentions discreetly, as you so ably can.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — In general, the chances are indicated by authority. However, suggest other methods where you see fit, but not hastily, learn from past endeavors indicated. Also, recognition for a long forgotten deed.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — A new surge of energy should carry you far along the road to success and recognition. But be sure of your goals, don't scatter energies in diverse directions.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — The efforts you put forth will not be as heroic as you run down hill. But possible late beginnings can have an effect on your endeavor, but track all new essentials.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — Don't rock the boat, but anything for one time for you could reveal a new way. Study, success, efforts, and people themselves, giving each the benefit of your own judgment, all new essentials.

December 24 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Without realizing it, you may be the person of your own fate and misadventures. This is a day for deep thought and definite action. It may be a new idea when you feel it best to act.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Especially favored now, the imagination of new methods, plans, and schemes. It is your vision, your BELIEF. February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Make time count, position matters. Don't let big or small matters, but let them come up, get in the way of steady progress. This is the day to advance a new idea when you feel it best to act.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius) — You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer. You have a great deal to offer, but you must have a great deal to offer.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 8 or more, subtract 8 from the number. If the number is less than 8, add 8 to the number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ICC Disaster Hearings Testimony To Be Focused On Koda

STROUDSBURG — Much of the testimony given and developed at Interstate Commerce Commission public hearings on the Marshalls Creek disaster will center around Albert Koda, driver of the ill-fated trailer, and his actions before and after the explosion.

The hearings on July 23 and 24 in the Monroe County Courthouse will be concerned with how closely Koda and the American Cyanamid Co., owners of the explosives which killed, conformed with ICC and other federal and state regulations.

ICC Regulations
Parts of the intensive investigations being carried out to determine what happened June 26 center around these federal regulations:

The Motor Carrier Safety Regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, section 197.1, paragraph B, state:

"Motor vehicles transporting class A or class B explosives shall not be left unattended at any time during the course of transportation."

"Nothing contained in this part shall be construed to relieve the driver of any requirement for the protection of any such motor vehicle when disabled or stopped upon any street or highway as provided in Part 192 of this subchapter."

Warning Signals
Section 192.22 — "Whenever any motor vehicle is disabled upon the traveled portion of any highway or the shoulder thereof, during the period lighted lamps are required, except where there is sufficient all-night street or highway lighting provided as such to make clearly discernible to persons on the highway at a distance of 500 feet—

"The driver of such vehicle shall immediately, upon learning of the disability, flash the two front and two rear turn signals simultaneously as a vehicular traffic hazard warning and continue such flashing until he shall have placed the portable emergency signals required by paragraphs (b) to (e) of this section in use on the highway, and during the time such portable emergency signals are being picked up for storage prior to movement of the vehicle."

"These warning signals may be given at other times during vehicle disablement in addition to but not in lieu of the portable emergency signals required in paragraphs (b) to (e) of this section."

Warning Signals
"(b) The driver of such vehicle shall immediately place on the traveled portion of the highway at the traffic side of the disabled vehicle, a lighted fuse, a lighted red electric lantern, or a red emergency reflector."

"(c) Except as provided in paragraph D-E and F of this section, as soon thereafter as possible, but in any event within the burning period of the fuse, the driver shall place three liquid-burning flares, or three red electric lanterns, or three red emergency reflectors on the traveled portion of the highway in the following order:

"One at a distance of approximately 100 feet from the disabled vehicle in the center of the traffic lane occupied by such vehicle and toward traffic approaching in that lane."

"One at a distance of approximately 100 feet in the opposite direction from the disabled vehicle in the center of the traffic lane occupied by such vehicle."

"One at the traffic side of the disabled vehicle, not less than 10 feet to the front or rear thereof. If a red electric lantern or red emergency reflector has been placed on the traffic side of the vehicle in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, it may be used for this purpose."

Fire Extinguishers
Section 193.95 — "Emergency equipment on all power units, on every bus, truck, and tractor, and every driven vehicle in driveway, towaway operation, there shall be:

"A. Fire Extinguisher. At least one fire extinguisher with physical characteristics and fire extinguishing ability equivalent to or better than fire extinguishers which qualify under Classification B of the standards of Underwriters' Laboratories, in effect on June 30, 1951."

Federal Regulations
"The Code of Federal Regulations, Title 49 — Transportation, states:

Section 77.800 — "To promote the uniform enforcement of law and to minimize the dangers to life and property incident to the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles, by common and contract carriers, by motor vehicle engaged in interstate or foreign commerce . . .

Section 73.427 — "The shipper when offering for transportation by carriers (trucks), rail freight, rail express, highway or water any class A, class B, or class C explosive, flammable liquid, flammable solid, oxidizing material, corrosive liquid, compressed gas, or poison as defined by this part, must describe such article in the shipping order, bill of lading or other shipping paper by the shipping name used in section 72.5 (see commodity list) of this chapter and may add a further description not inconsistent therewith."

Blasting Caps Number
"For shipments of blasting caps the shipper must, in addition, show the number of caps in the shipment."

The code's commodity list defines dynamite an explosive, class A; less than 1,000 blasting caps as explosive, class C, and nitro carbo nitrate an oxidizing material.)

Section 77.823 — "(a) Every motor vehicle, other than tank motor vehicles, transporting any quantity of explosives, class A; poison gas, class A; or radioactive material, poison class D requiring red radioactive materials label except label described in Section 73.414 (d) of this chapter for which placards are not required."

"And every motor vehicle transporting 2,500 pounds gross weight or more of explosives."

class B, flammable liquids, flammable solids, or oxidizing materials, corrosive liquids, compressed gas, class B poisons, and tear gas."

3 Signs Required
"Or 5,000 pounds gross weight or more of two or more articles of these groups shall be marked or placarded on each side and the rear with a placard or lettering in letters no less than three inches high on a contrasting background as follows:

"The chart shows that class A explosives must be marked 'explosives' and oxidizing material must be marked 'dangerous.'"

The code states that when two such signs are required, "The sign, lettering or placard used shall be the one which, in the judgment of the motor carrier, designates the most dangerous article being transported."

Section 77.835 — "(g) 'Blasting caps, blasting caps with safety fuse, blasting caps with metal clad mild detonating fuse and/or electric blasting caps, without limitation as to quantity except as limited paragraph (m) of this section, may be transported in the same motor vehicle with high explosives (dynamites and similar explosives) does not exceed 5,000 pounds as follows:

"The blasting caps, blasting caps with safety fuse, blasting caps with metal clad mild detonating fuse and electric blasting caps must be packed in authorized ICC specifications outside shipping containers, or in prescribed inside ICC packages in an outside box made of one inch lumber lined with suitable padding material not less than one-half inch thick or a box made of not less than 12 gauge sheet metal lined with plywood or other suitable material not less than three-eighths inch thick so that no metal is exposed."

"Finged cover and fastening device are required on boxes. These boxes must be loaded in motor vehicle so that contents or box will be immediately accessible for removal and so that other containers in the motor vehicle will not fall on them or otherwise damage them during transit."

State PUC Code
The Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission, the agency which licenses companies to transport goods over state highways, requires compliance with ICC rules and regulations for the transportation of dangerous articles.

The laws of the state motor vehicle code are similar to the ICC laws with regard to marking trailers carrying explosives.

The vehicle code also requires a dynamite truck to carry at least one fire extinguisher.

Section 836 states: "No person shall at any time operate a vehicle transporting explosives as a cargo or part of a cargo upon a highway, unless it carries electric lanterns or electric flashing signals, or reflector type flares, as herein required."

"Such electric lanterns or electric flashing signals must be capable of producing a red light, and such reflector type flares must be in good condition capable of reflecting light of an oncoming vehicle at least 500 feet, and shall be displayed upon the highway when and as required in this section."

Disabled On Highway

The code requires these danger signals to be used whenever a truck and its lighting system are disabled on the traveled portion of a highway. The code defines a highway as being, "Every way or place, of whatever nature, open to the use of the public as a matter of right, for the purposes of vehicular traffic."

"The term highway shall not be deemed to include a roadway or driveway upon grounds owned by private persons, colleges, universities or other institutions."

DID YOU KNOW!

There's a little place out West Main St. across from Jolley's Auto called the Big Star Drive-in. It features, in addition to velvety soft ice cream, luscious sundaes and giant shakes, a variety of tasty foods such as honey dipped chicken, shrimp-in-basket, fish-on-a-bun, fresh baked Pizza, Italian Hoagies, char-broiled steak and hamburger sandwiches and out-of-this-world Bar-B-Q.

A lot of people have their lunch there. No parking problem, no waiting and no tipping. And a lot of people call 421-7661, order their supper and enjoy it without the fuss over a hot stove.

It's really outstanding. Why not find out for yourself? The 'carriage trade' already has.
